'Diamond' Sparkles At KILE

ANDY ANDREWS
Editor

WOMELSDORF (Berks Co.) — Longtime Fulton/Lebanon Valley Farmers Bank officer Mike Firestine, Womelsdorf, has been selected as this year's entry into the Pennsylvania Livestock Association (PLA) Hall of Fame.

Firestine, with the bank since 1976 and a senior vice president and senior ag lending officer, is no stranger to the work of promoting ag in the community.

Mike, along with wife Martene and two daughters Morgan and Margeaux, care for a registered herd of Hereford cattle and raise various crops.

The Firestines are long noted for work with the Pennsylvania Hereford Association and have shown cattle in many shows throughout the region.

The honor comes at a time after great success in finally securing a national Hereford show at the Keystone International Livestock Expo (KILE), going on throughout the weekend at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

Firestine noted "three years of hard work" to convince the American Hereford Association (AHA), in Kansas City, Mo., to allow a national show at KILE. About three years ago, Firestine said that the AHA wanted at least 160 cattle at the show — and KILE was able to sign on 207 this year.

Mike Firestine

"I contacted a lot of farmers," said Firestine by phone Monday. He was able to get the support of about 75 exhibitors.

This year has been designated "Year of the Beef," so it's appropriate to promote all breeds. Herefords were one of the breeds on parade at opening ceremonies at KILE in Harrisburg Thursday afternoon.

Firestine noted the 2003 KILE National Hereford Show is dedicated to Charles Itle, who Firestine calls an "icon" at the Farm Show Complex.

Itle is the Farm Show assistant director and manager of KILE. Itle began the responsibilities in 1974.

Itle's involvement with KILE "has been invaluable," said Firestine. "Under Mr. Itle's direction, there have been numerous improvements made in the show. He has always been supportive of the Hereford industry."

Itle's emphasis has been on the educational aspect of KILE, including the livestock judging contests and Keystone Stockmen's Contest.

Said Firestine, "Mr. Itle will be retiring after this year's show. But I am quite sure we will still see Mr. Itle keeping his finger on the pulse at the Farm Show Complex."

The National Hereford Show is one of six, including the North American International Livestock Expo in Louisville, Ky.; the Kansas City American Royal

Small Farm Expo Travels To N.J., Hosts Visitors From 7 States

HARMONY (Warren Co.) — The 2003 Northeast Small Farm and Rural Living Expo traveled to the Warren County Farmers' Fairgrounds, Harmony, N.J. this year.

Conducted in conjunction with the Garden State Sheep Breeders Sheep and Fiber Festival, the event brought large crowds to the two-day event with gate records showing visitors from seven states in attendance.

With Cornell, Penn State, and Rutgers Cooperative Extension agencies involved in the planning, it was decided the expo would be conducted on a yearly rotating basis moving between Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York. The first expo in 2001 was in Pennsylvania and was a huge success. The planners decided to return to that location in 2002 before they started the three-state rotation. With each location within a two- to three-hour drive of each other, any fears of losing their following were quickly calmed this year after seeing the abundant flow of visitors throughout the two-day event.

Art Charlton of the Warren County Department of Economic Development and Tourism welcomed visitors during the opening ceremony. After the flag presentation by Boy Scout Troop 141, Charlton introduced Michael Doherty, N.J. assemblyman

Baltimore County Celebrates Land Preservation Milestone

TOWSON, Md. — Baltimore County Executive James T. Smith Jr. announced that Baltimore County landowners have forever protected 40,000 acres of rural land from future development. This brings the county to the halfway point of an established goal of preserving 80,000 acres.

"I congratulate these generous and forward-thinking landowners who are protecting a way of life in the county's rural areas, while also helping to protect the air and water quality for everyone in the region," Smith said.

Smith, the Baltimore County Council, the Baltimore County Agricultural Land Preservation Board, celebrated this significant land preservation accomplishment at a family picnic for hundreds of participating landowners, elected officials, land trust organizations and government officials at the Morris Meadows Historic Preservation Museum in northern Baltimore County.

"I can think of no more important thing for a farm owner to do than to preserve land for the continuation of the agricultural in-

Compared to last Thursday, high Choice and Prime slaughter steers sold steady, instances weaker. Choice slaughter steers sold mostly steady. Bidding was more active on the average quality stock, as high Select and low Choice steers sold from .50-1.50 higher. Heavier muscled Select steers were also in high demand, and were also in good supply, with sales up to 2.00 higher. The run was light, which is becoming the norm across the country as finished supplies seem to be drying-up a little; which can be translated into, the market was high, people sold them due to it being high, and now nice Choice and high Choice steers are hard to come by; at least in the cattle that run through the sale ring. The supply was mixed in New Holland, which allowed an assortment of buyers to enter the market. The high quality high Choice and Prime cattle that the area is known for were tough to pick out on Thursday, but there were still enough to fill the demand, although live weights were a little lower Holstein slaughter steers sold steady to firm The Holstein run was lighter as well, but buyers are still paying good money for them as they make a good supplement for high priced black cattle. Slaughter heifers sold mostly 1 00 higher on a run that included a couple cuts of pretty nice females. Lean slaughter cows sold steady to 1.00 higher, with the fleshier cows as much as 3.50 higher due to an increase in late week demand. Slaughter bulls are still 1 00-3.00 lower than last Thursday. The supply included 384 head of slaughter steers, 56 head of slaughter heifers, 524 head of slaughter cows, 131 head of slaughter bulls, with 204 head of feeder cattle.

Most lots of 40-60 weight pigs have a sliding value from the negotiated weight basis which is calculated on the actual average weight of the load plus or minus 30-.40 per pound. Some early weaned lots have a slide of 50-1 00 per pound. Early weaned pigs are under 19 days old Estimated lean value is projected to use slaughter weights with normal confinement feeding conditions. Vaccination and health program values are not included but health status should be disclosed.

Hog/Pig Inventory 2 Percent Lower

Washington, D.C.
September 26, 2003
Report Supplied By USDA/NASS

WASHINGTON, D C — U.S. inventory of all hogs and pigs on September 1, 2003, was 59.6 million head. This was 2 percent below September 1, 2002, but 2 percent above June 1, 2003, according to the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS)

• Breeding inventory, at 5 88 million head, was down 3 percent from September 1, 2002, and 1 percent below last quarter.

• Market hog inventory, at 53.7 million head, was 2 percent below last year, but 2 percent above last quarter

• The June-August 2003 U.S. pig crop, at 25 2 million head, was 2 percent less than both 2002 and 2001

Sows farrowing during this period totaled 2.83 million head, 2 percent below last year The sows farrowed during this quarter represented 48 percent of the breeding herd

The average pigs per litter was 8.90 pigs saved per litter for the June-August 2003 period, equivalent to last year. Pigs saved per litter by size of operation ranged from 7.60 for operations with 1-99 hogs to 9.00 for operations with more than 5,000 hogs and pigs.

U S hog producers intend to have 2.80 million sows farrow during the September-November 2003 quarter, 1 percent below the actual farrowings during the same period in 2002 and 3 percent below 2001. Intended farrowings for December 2003-February 2004, at 2 77 million sows, are 2 percent below the same period in 2002, but 1 percent above 2001.

The total number of hogs under contract, owned by operations with over 5,000 head, but raised by contractees, accounted for 35 percent of the total U S hog inventory, unchanged from last year

REVISIONS: All inventory and pig crop estimates for September 2002 through June 2003 were reviewed using final pig crop official slaughter, death loss, and updated import and export data Based on the findings of this review no revisions were necessary to total hog inventory or pig crop in any quarter

Daily National Grain Market Summary

St. Joseph, MO
October 1, 2003
Report Supplied By USDA

Grain and soybean bids were higher for the day Wheat found light support from the positive stock numbers yesterday and technical buying. Corn saw slight gains due to the stronger soybean and wheat trade Corn yields continue to be good, applying pressure to the market Soybeans recovered most of its losses from yesterday's lower market as poor yields continue to lend support. Wheat was 5-9 cents higher except Portland 2 cents higher Corn was steady to 2 cents higher. Sorghum was steady to 4 cents higher Soybeans were 5-10 cents higher except Minneapolis 15 cents higher.

How do people know when it will be a full Moon?

Astronomers determine the moment of a full Moon based on the Moon's position in relation to the Sun When the Moon is exactly opposite in the sky to the Sun (180 degrees apart), it is deemed a full Moon At that moment, the Sun is setting in the west and the Moon is coming up in the east, and the Moon's disk is fully (100%) illuminated. Some hours before or after the moment of full Moon, the Moon is ever-so-slightly out of round and its illumination is only 99.8% of full. Most folks, however, refer to the Moon as full not only on the day it is actually full, but also on the day before, since it is hard to see the difference.

Got Stains?

Try this:

DEODORANT Sponge area with white vinegar If stain remains, soak with denatured alcohol Wash with detergent in hottest water safe for the stained fabric

GRASS Presoak in cold water for at least 30 minutes Rinse and then pretreat with detergent Wash using detergent, hot water, and fabric-safe bleach On acetate and colored fabrics, use 1 part alcohol to 2 parts of water

WEATHER FOLKLORE
Cold is the night,
When the stars shine bright.

Thought OF THE WEEK
The smallest GOOD DEED is better than the grandest GOOD INTENTION.

Where did Jack-o'-lanterns originate?

According to Irish legend, there was a miserly old drunkard named Jack who, accepted in neither heaven nor hell, was forced to wander the earth, with a coal from hell stuck in a turnip to light his way

LOST EYE CONTACT?
When a contact lens is lost in the house, reach for the vacuum cleaner. Stretch a piece of nylon stocking over the end of the hose and secure with a rubber band. The suction can recover the lens in a jiffy.

Wonder why this month's full Moon is called a Hunters' Moon? Check out

New Holland Special Feeder Cattle Sale

New Holland, Pa.
September 29, 2002
Report Supplied By USDA

NEW HOLLAND SALES STABLES SPECIAL FEEDER CATTLE AUCTION Total head 1,000 est; 480 reported. The New Holland Sales Stables held a special feeder cattle sale on September 26 that included nearly 1000 head of cattle A very good crowd was on hand as bidding was fairly active throughout the majority of the run. The supply was mixed, but included a couple nice consignments of Holstein feeders A large (300 head) shipment of Holstein steers came out of Maryland weighing from 500-1050 lbs, and drew good attention as they were preconditioned. Another 60 head came out of Maine, which were not pre-vaccinated, but still sold very well. All-in-all, the run sold well; with Holstein steer prices fairly competitive with the surrounding states. The next New Holland feeder cattle special is going to be held on Friday, Oct. 31, to begin at 6:00 pm.

OPINION

At Long Last, A History Of A Great Department

We learned late last week that Penn State has recently completed a history of the Dairy and Animal Science Department and is making the story available online at www.das.psu.edu/history.

The product of a committee of seven emeritus faculty, the history describes the origins of animal research and extension activities at Penn State, when Dr. Henry Armsby became director of the Agricultural Experiment Station in 1887. The story continues to the present day, highlighting the many achievements in research, extension, and education; the evolution of the department; and the many people that made it all happen.

In the introduction to the history, Department Head Terry D. Etherton writes, "I invite you to read about the long and storied history of the Department of Dairy and Animal Science. The origins of the present-day department date back to 1887! As you can imagine, since the first days of the university and department, much has happened, and thousands of individuals have passed through the gates of "Dear Old State." We in the department think it is important to share this wonderful legacy with you! I think you will be amazed at the impact our people and programs have had.

"The impetus for this project was the recognition that we did not have a written history of the department. As is always the case, as events and time move ahead, what has happened in the past can fade away. I think it is invaluable to have a written history of the department to provide a foundation for our successors to appreciate the "lives and times" of so many who have been "touched" by the department."

Etherton noted the idea to develop a history of the department was shared with some former faculty who launched the effort. This group (Don Ace, chair; Lester Burdette, Bob Cowan, Tom Merritt, Grant Sherritt, Larry Specht, and John Zeigler) "did a marvelous job of exploring the many, many documents and photos dispersed around campus. They worked hard to capture the history of the department. There are many entertaining stories they can share about "digging" out historical information that resides in the university archives. My observation is that they had much fun, and I am very, very appreciative of their dedication and hard work."

Let us (and Penn State) know what you think. We can be reached via e-mail at farming@lancasterfarming.com. Etherton can be reached at tetherton@psu.edu.

To Manage Harvest Of Wind-Damaged Corn

The wind damage caused by Tropical Storm Isabel has significantly disrupted corn silage harvest in the areas that were impacted by the storm. This has especially impacted farms who normally harvest with horses and binders who now need to wait on a custom chopper since their normal equipment cannot handle the badly damaged crop.

This means that there are many more farmers this year waiting for custom harvest services than in past years. The net result is many farmers are not all going to be able to harvest their crop at desirable moisture levels. This is combined with the challenges of extra mold inoculum in the fields because of the wet growing season and unusually high amounts of soil contamination in the harvested silage.

In order to minimize quality problems, there are a number of things farmers should keep in mind. Dr. Limin Kung Jr., professor of ruminant nutrition and microbiology at the University of Delaware, is an expert in the fermentation process and shares the following insights on dealing with this storm-damaged crop.

If you are forced to harvest the crop too wet because of the availability of harvesting equipment, no inoculants are recommended. You will have problems with seepage, but you are still likely to have reasonably good fermentation without the use of inoculants. If it is possible, it would be better to allow the custom harvester to move on to other farms and return later when your crop has dried to better moisture levels.

Harvesting the silage after it is too dry (less than 60 percent moisture) is a bigger problem. The number one problem under this scenario is to get the silage to pack well enough to allow for fermentation. In order to do this, one needs to chop the corn to a finer particle size. Under good conditions a particle size of ¾ inch is normally recommended. However, if the silage is too dry, Kung recommends a particle length of ½ inch. While this will lead to other challenges with rumen function, he believes the most important problem to solve is getting fermentation.

Under these conditions, farmers should apply an inoculant of Lactobacillus buchneri bacteria which will help control mold growth. This is fairly new inoculant and is available from Pioneer and Renaissance Nutrition. This inoculant promotes the rapid development of lactic acid in the fermentation process. The other alternative is to use buffered propionic acid. Propionic acid is less available, harder to apply, and is likely to be more costly than using the Lactobacillus buchneri inoculant.

To Be Safe Around Silo Gas

Each year at silo filling time comes the danger of silo gas. This threat has been around since the first use of silos and it is easy to take shortcuts or become complacent about the dangers associated with silo filling. The fact that many have worked around this for years without a problem contributes to not taking this seriously. However, a simple mistake could cost you your life, so take the time to use adequate precautions.

Those who normally fill their silos with a binder over a longer period of time will learn that silos filled quickly with a chopper produce gas rapidly after the silo is full. Under these circumstances, you may have much more gas to deal with than what you are used to seeing.

Silo gas is formed by the natural fermentation of chopped forages in the silo. Several gases are formed and the type of silo the forage is stored in determines the amount of different gases. In a conventional or open-top silo, nitrogen dioxide is the major gas formed. This gas is characterized by a strong bleach-like odor and low-lying yellow, red, or dark-brown fumes. It reaches a peak about three days after filling and quickly begins to decrease shortly thereafter, especially if the silo is ventilated. After two weeks it is unlikely that any more gas will be formed, but some could still be present if it was trapped and unable to escape the silo.

Nitrogen dioxide is dangerous because it causes severe irritation to the nose and throat and could cause inflammation of the lungs. It is especially dangerous because low-level exposure is often accompanied by only slight irritation or pain. Although death can occur immediately, a farmer could breathe the gas without any immediate serious symptoms and then die in his sleep hours later from fluid collecting in his lungs. Many victims have relapses one to two weeks after the initial exposure with symptoms similar to pneumonia. If you are exposed to the gas, it is critical that you seek medical attention!

Ideally, everyone should avoid the silo during the critical period when gases are forming. Since this is not always possible, it is best to use a self-contained breathing apparatus when entering during the danger period. This is the only breathing device that is certain to protect you from all silo gases. Dust masks or even chemical cartridge respirators do not provide sufficient protection and are not intended to be used where gases are extremely toxic or where the air has been replaced by gases such as carbon dioxide.

If you do not have access to a self-contained breathing device, it is possible to enter the silo safely if the following precautions are followed. First ventilate the silo and adjacent areas by running the blower 15-20 minutes before entering. All doors should be opened down to the level of the settled silage and the windows in the feed room should be opened. Leave the blower running the entire time you are inside. Never enter the silo unless another adult is present who can go for help if needed. This person should maintain visual contact with you. Although it will not protect you from silo gases, wear a

AIM AT HEAVEN

Background Scripture:
1 Peter 1:1 through 2:10.
Devotional Reading:
Leviticus 19:1-10.

On Sunday mornings, churches in Britain and Europe are inhabited by congregations continually diminishing in size. In the U.S., while there are some "megachurches" to the contrary, generally church membership and attendance are declining.

For many people this has produced, if not a loss of faith, at least a greatly diminished hope — this in a world where war, poverty, economic recession, and ecological disasters have been joined by stifling materialism and appalling selfishness.

In "The Family Reunion," T.S. Eliot writes:

You do not know what hope is,
until you have lost it.
You only know what it is not to hope;
You do not know what it is to have hope taken from you,
Or to fling it away, to join the legion of the hopeless.

Legion Of The Hopeless

Overwhelmed by a world that, for all of our technological wizardry, becomes more and more unmanageable, many people are silently joining "the legion of the hopeless." Nothing seems to work to achieve what it promises, and every new solution is eclipsed by a new and more ominous crisis.

Many Christians are alarmed at the growth of Islam, but to me, the most alarming portent is not the growth of other religions but the loss of Christian vitality. People are not rushing to join churches where there seems to be no more genuine hope than elsewhere. If we were offering and living the Christian hope, our church rolls would not be diminishing. "They" are not the problem; "we" are.

One of the great appeals of primitive Christianity was the "living hope" to which 1 Peter 1:3 tells us all Christians are "born anew." What is "a living hope"? Just as "living waters" are those that flow from a perennial spring, so a living hope is one that neither trials, tribulations, nor crises can destroy or take from us, because our hope is based upon the resurrection — which was not just about how Jesus conquered death on a cross, but how Christians are resurrected from defeat to victory in that very same power.

A Living Hope

Sooner or later everything in this world upon which we bank our hope will perish. You can't even "go home again," because "home" is always caught up in change, too. If, however, we put our trust in the "living hope" of Christ's gospel, we have, as 1 Peter puts it, "an inheritance which is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading" (1:3,4).

Our life in Jesus Christ is forward-looking in that the greater part is yet to come. As Prof. Elmer G. Homrighausen put it, "Early Christians were characterized by the spirit of triumph. Their worship and work were done in the spirit of joy and anticipation. They were already 'raised with Christ.'" So are we!

Our faith, although it is in what is yet to come, also has ramifications for where we are right now. So, "set your hope fully upon the grace that is coming to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ" (1:13). But we do not wait for that day idly, for "As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, be holy yourselves in all your conduct. . . ." (1:14,15).

C.S. Lewis reminds us that ". . . Christians who did most for the present world were just those who thought most of the next. . . . Aim at Heaven and you will get earth "thrown in"; aim at earth and you will get neither."

Offers are subject to credit approval by GE Capital Financial, Inc. Applies to purchases of all new Suzuki ATVs 160cc and larger made between 8/4/03 and 11/30/03 on a Suzuki credit card account. Fixed payment/reduced APR until January 2005. Minimum monthly payments of a fixed amount of $39 (plus optional credit insurance charges) will be required each month in addition to any other required minimum payment. During the promotional period, finance charges will be assessed on the promotional purchase amount from date of purchase at the fixed rate of .0107% (corresponding fixed annual APR of 3.9%). If minimum monthly payments on your account(including optional insurance charges) are not paid when due, all special promotions terms may be terminated. Standard account terms apply to non-promotional purchases and, after promotion ends, to your promotional purchases. Current standard APR is 17.9% minimum monthly payment 3% of balance. Suzuki QuadRunner ATVs may be used only by those aged 16 and older. Suzuki highly recommends that all ATV riders take a training course. We'll even pay for it. For safety and training course information, see your dealer or call the SVIA at 1-800-852-5344. ATVs can be hazardous to operate. For your safety, always wear a helmet, eye protection and protective clothing. Always avoid paved surfaces. Never ride on public roads. Never carry passengers or engage in stunt riding. Riding and alcohol or other drugs don't mix. Avoid excessive speeds. Be extra careful on difficult terrain. Suzuki engineered the LT-Z400 for experienced riders. Offers end November 30, 2003.

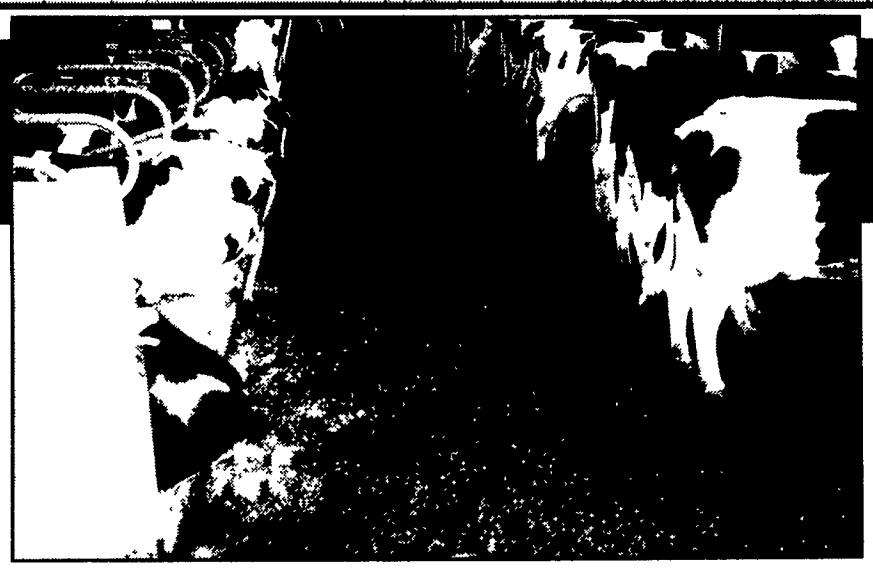
"WAFFLE SLAT" Syrt-Con Corporation



"We would use slats again if doing it all over"

Harold Keeney; David, Nancy & Mark Wolfskill

Our original plan was to install scrapers. But after 10 minutes in a slatted barn in Somerset County, we changed our minds. Some people stay away from slats because of the initial cost, but that extra cost is made up for in the first couple years.

The one thing I like the most about slats is that there is no expense. I don't have any scrapers or drive units to maintain. I don't have to run scrapers every day or haul manure like we did in our previous tie stall barn. The cows' foot health has been a lot better, and the cows stay much cleaner. Our milk production is up and the somatic cell count has gone down. I give at least some of the credit to the slats because with less moisture on the floor, there is less bacteria.

- David Wolfskill

"The answer to the most common question is 'No, there is no build-up.'"

SOY-BASED BIODIESEL.

You grow soybeans. Your soybean checkoff helped develop soy-based biodiesel. Government and industry studies show it's good for your engines, the environment, and U.S. farmers.

Farmers are the second-largest consumers of diesel fuel in the U.S. So when you request biodiesel, fuel suppliers will listen. Ask your fuel supplier to carry B2 - a two-percent blend of pure, ASTM D-6751 quality soy-based biodiesel. It's available throughout the United States, so why not ask for it and use it?

Using B2 on your farm supports the industry's growth, by increasing the number of suppliers for high-quality biodiesel fuel. And, a B2 blend provides increased lubricity for your engines, a boost in cetane, and reduced dependence on foreign oil

Studies show that if every farmer used B2, we could utilize more than 50 million bushels of soybeans per year - the combined 2001 annual soybean harvests of Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. Imagine the potential.

ASK FOR IT. PUMP IT. PROFIT.

East Fluid Milk And Cream Review

Madison, Wis.
October 1, 2003
Report Supplied by USDA

SPOT PRICES OF CLASS II CREAM, dollars per lb butterfat: F.O.B. producing plants Northeast. 1.6364-1.8973. Delivered Equivalent. Atlanta: 1.6483-1.8972 mostly 1.7076-1.8380.

PRICES OF CONDENSED SKIM, dollars per lb. wet solids, F.O.B. producing plants. Northeast: Class II, includes monthly formula prices: .8700-.9300. Class III, spot prices: 1.1500-1.3000.

SPOTS SHIPMENTS OF GRADE A MILK: FLORIDA: This Week: In 201, Out 0; Last Week: In 204, Out 0; Last Year: In 154, Out 0. SOUTHEAST STATES: This Week: In 40, Out 0; Last Week: In 40, Out 0; Last Year: In 0, Out 0.

EDITOR'S NOTE. Due to changes in milk supply agreements, milk import/export totals are not directly comparable to year ago figures and to shipments prior to April 1, 2003

Milk production is rebounding nicely in the Hurricane-ravaged areas. Power has been restored in most areas, but some scattered households just got back on line this past weekend There is still no definitive word on how much, if any, milk was lost because of Isabel. The milk flow in New England is mostly steady and milk supplies are still reported as tight. Florida's milk production is increasing, but still short of needs. For the third consecutive week, more than 200 loads of milk were imported into the state. Bottled milk sales are settling back into normal patterns as schools that were closed by Isabel are back in session. Retail sales of bottled milk are not as brisk as they have been, but contacts expected a slight lull after restocking storm-impacted stores. Some bottlers did try to put up more inventory before October Class I prices went into effect and their late-week milk orders are a little lighter than normal. Surplus milk volumes remain light and some plants have little milk to process at mid-week. Weekend volumes are heavier, but still below typical levels. Cheese plants are often taking more milk which pulls volumes away from butter/powder plants. In the Southeast, manufacturing plants are a little more active than they have been, but most have plenty of capacity should it be needed.

The condensed skim market is firm. Class II condensed skim sales are quite good, when it is available. Class III condensed skim remains weak as the price is prohibitive when compared to NDM prices Few spot sales of wet solids are being reported since most producers are having some difficulty meeting the needs of their regular accounts.

The fluid cream market continues firm, but supplies, though tight, are not as tight as they have been. Demand is good and prices are steady to lower since both the weekly average price for cash butter at the CME and multiples eased lower. Supplies report that buying interest from cream cheese makers is improving. Also, butter makers are showing more interest as some are soliciting cream, which runs counter to typical patterns for Class IV cream buyers. Ice cream production is about steady, but reports of some plants being down several days this week for maintenance have been noted. Churning activity is light.

Pasture Perfect®
The Brand of Choice
Pasture Perfect® Dealer of the Week:
Tony Striedieck

This week Ampac Seed Company and Rohrer Seeds recognize Tony Striedieck of Ornamental Landscaping, Inc. Of his operations Tony says, "Basically, we do everything from logged woods to lush green grass, and everything in between This includes soil sampling, tree removal, preparing seedbed or renovating pasture - whatever is required. We do custom individualized projects "

Tony Striedieck

Tony recommends Pasture Perfect® Horse Pasture Mix to meet the pasture needs of horse owners. Horses are very selective grazers, so they can be hard on pastures. They aren't as efficient as cattle at converting grass into energy, so providing quality forage is even more important for them

This mix is custom designed for horses, and it effectively combines the need for persistence under intensive grazing, and high nutritive value. The persistence and quality of Tekapo and Duo provide a robust grass base complimented by the fast establishment and palatability of Tonga. This well rounded mix ensures that your horses are getting the nutrients they need for a happy, healthy life. Try it today!

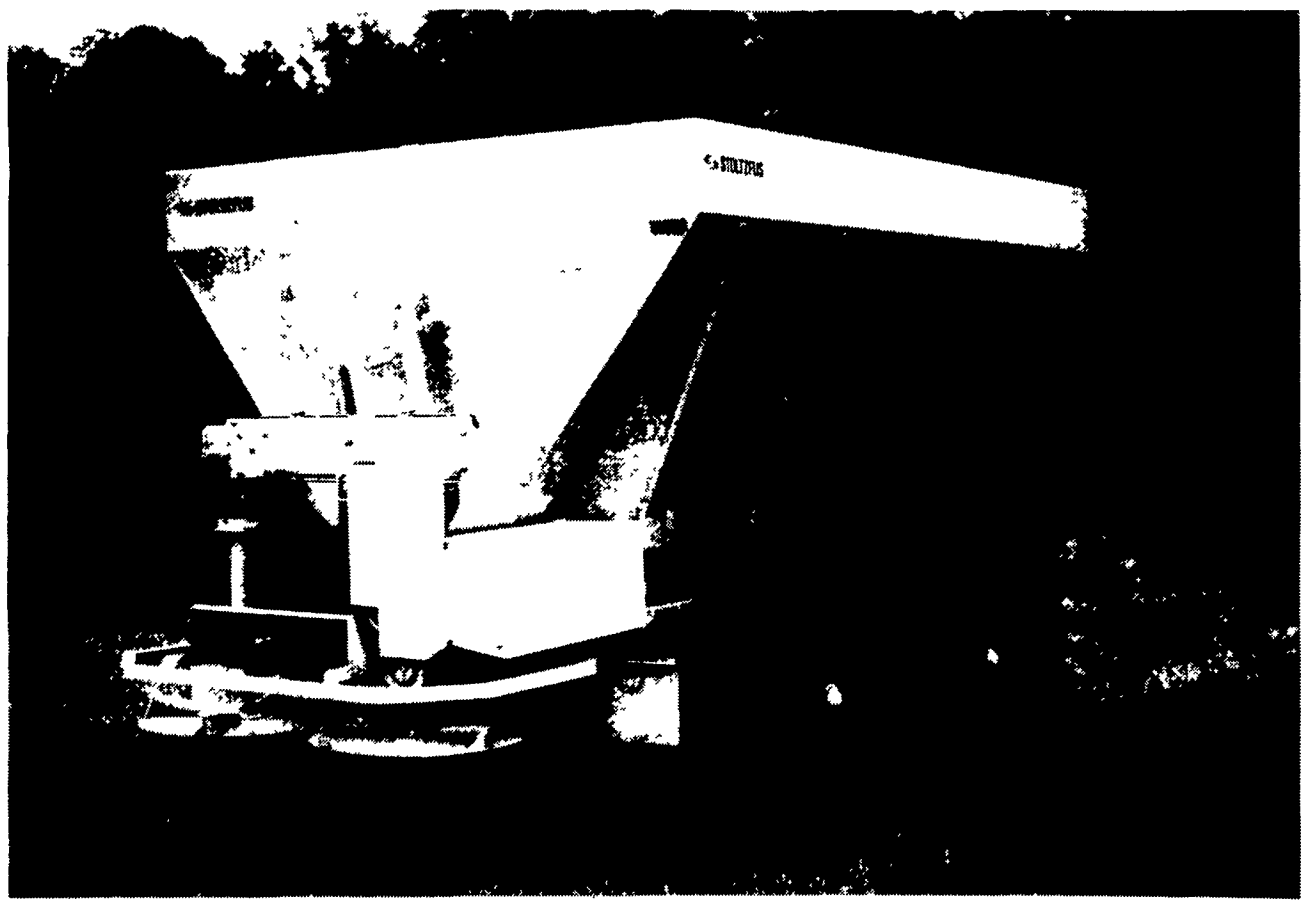
It's Time To Lime!



When spreading stockpiled lime, for example. The Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreader is likely the most powerful spreader of its kind on the market today. You see, we've been building them since 1945, and farmers are still using Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreaders they've had for 20, even 30 years. Our special drag chain is 4 times stronger than stainless steel, and handles frozen and heavy stockpiled lime with ease. Plus for spreading compost, composted sludge, poultry litter and certain fertilizers, the WLS is without equal for sheer volume spreading.

Cut your fertilizer bill by liberating nutrients tied up by acid soil.

Use Lime.

Preservation Leaders Laud Vote

RYAN ROBINSON
Special To Lancaster Farming

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — County officials and agricultural preservation leaders are lauding the Lancaster County Commissioners' denial of a land-swap deal as a victory for the farmland preservation program.

The commissioners voted unanimously to deny Ephrata Area School District's proposal to use 1.4 acres of the preserved David Lauver farm along Meadow Valley Road in Ephrata Township for a secondary access drive for a planned elementary school.

While preservationists applauded the decision, the president of the Ephrata Area School Board called it a "slap in the face" to everyone from the school, Ephrata Township and Ephrata Borough who spent the last three to four years carefully planning the school.

"This has become a pure political football," said William Funk. "I personally feel that this has become such an obvious political issue that has nothing to do with educating children or the needs of addressing our growth."

Preservation officials see it differently. The importance the decision has to the farmland preservation effort can not be overstated, said Heidi Schellenger of the Lancaster Farmland Trust. "My board members told me this issue was a hill to die on," Schellenger said.

The commissioners demonstrated that safety is the only thing that would justify lifting an easement on preserved farmland, and even that bar is set very high, Schellenger said.

Funk disagreed sharply. "What it does do is cater to the narrow self-interests of the almost fanatical preservationists," Funk said. "We have a supreme disappointment with the way this went."

The school district proposed preserving 2.8 acres from a nearby farm in exchange for using the slice of preserved ground. "Our proposal was going to increase the amount of preserved land when we were done, slightly altering the boundary of preserved land," Funk said. "If (commissioners) truly cared about preserving land in the county, they would have voted for it." He also said he can't see how any dangerous precedent would be set in the case, as preservationists and two of the county commissioners have argued.

"The law currently allows preserved farmland to be crossed for cellular towers," Funk said. "The only precedent set here would be that any time a school district is in need of having a safe access to a public road, it can. We are not Wal-Mart. We are not a developer."

Commissioner Pete Shaub — who voted with fellow commissioners Paul Thibault and Ron Ford to block the school district's plan — disagreed with Funk. "Our ruling yesterday does indicate that we do take ag preservation seriously," Shaub said. "When we commit to preserving for perpetuity, then that's what it means, unless it is essential that a change be made."

He said that granting the school's right of way would jeopardize the trust and integrity of the number-one county farmland preservation program in the country. Gene Garber, president of the county's Agricultural Preserve Board, said before the vote that approving the access drive plan would break the county's "solemn promise" to Elam Lauver, who donated the land's easement in 1984. That would set a "terrible, terrible precedent" for farmland preservation, he said.

Agricultural Preserve Board Director Rich Doenges, speaking before the vote, said farmland preservation would be weakened, even if a legal precedent wasn't set. "Beyond the reality of the facts, it is important how this would be perceived by the public," Doenges said. All three commissioners thought the school district failed to prove that the access was the only safe alternative for the Lincoln Elementary School planned in Ephrata Township. The commissioners' careful consideration of the request and high bar set for safety impressed Schellenger.

"I was going to be very upset if they allowed this access drive and it wasn't a safety issue," she said. "The two easements that have been amended (in the past) make a nice precedent for safety. They weren't amended for convenience. I definitely think there would have been that perception in this case."

So where does Wednesday's ruling leave the school district, which desperately needs a new school to house its growing number of students? Funk said officials are eyeing several other routes as a possible secondary access drive to the school.

State's 2002 Orchard And Vineyard Survey Results Now Available

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Pennsylvania's 2002 Orchard and Vineyard Survey results are now available. The 64-page report contains information about the number of fruit trees and grapevines located in Pennsylvania, acreage by age and variety listed by county and state totals, rootstock information, and intentions for future plantings.

The information is gathered from the Orchard and Vineyard Survey that is conducted every five years, with the most recent conducted in the summer and fall of 2002. This report was released to the Internet on Aug. 28. For the 2002 and the 1997 issues of the Pennsylvania Orchard and Vineyard report, click on "Publications and Releases" at http://www.nass.usda.gov/pa/.

Two Exhibitors Wrap Up 4-H Show Careers At Berks Annual Roundup

ANDY ANDREWS
Editor

LEESPORT (Berks Co.) — For two longtime 4-H members, the event was bittersweet.

Both know this is their last year in the Berks County 4-H program, and both ended up winners late last week at the annual roundup at the Reading Fairgrounds in Leesport.

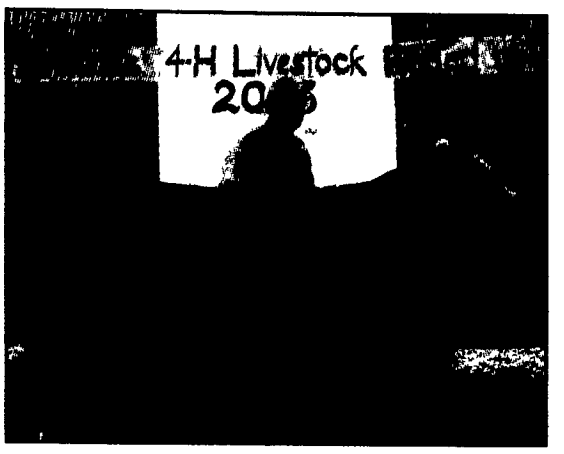
Kristy Dietrich, 18, daughter of James and Donna Dietrich, won reserve champion market steer. Cathryn Levan, 19, daughter of Paul and Shirley Levan, Hamburg, won reserve champion market lamb.

Both are veteran 4-H members and have exhibited in many southeastern Pennsylvania fairs and farm shows.

Both left the show ring late last week in tears.

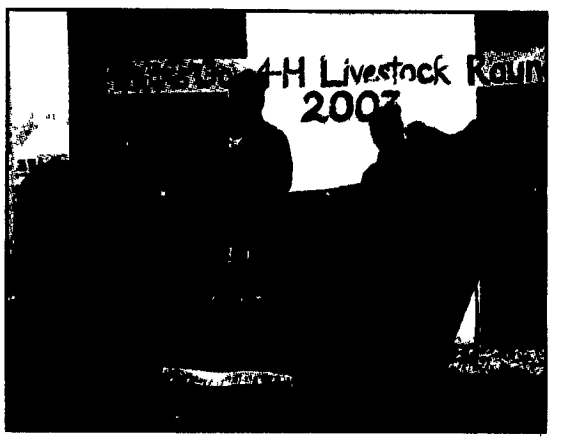
(Turn to Page A23)

Berks County 4-H reserve champion market lamb, exhibited by Cathryn Levan, Hamburg, weighed 110 pounds. Fulton Bank representatives Mike Firestine, center, and Jeff Bollinger purchased the lamb for $400.



Grand champion market steer at the Berks 4-H Roundup, exhibited by Aylissa Dietrich, Strausstown, sold for $2,400. The 1,155-pound steer was sold to Bill Campbell, Hoss's Steak and Seafood House.

Brett Treichler, Kutztown, right, exhibited Berks County 4-H Roundup grand champion dairy beef. The 582-pound champion sold for $975 to David Stutzman, MidAtlantic Farm Credit.



Reserve champion Berks County 4-H steer weighed 1,350 pounds and was exhibited by Kristy Dietrich, Hamburg. The steer sold for $2,500 to a consortium of buyers, including Nationwide Insurance Kathy Barry Agency, Hoober Inc., and Mountain View Supply. From left, Kelly Dietrich, Roger Hamm, and Kristy.

York Offers Scholarships

YORK (York Co.) — The York County Conservation District is offering a college scholarship of $500 for York County students majoring in a natural resource or agricultural field. Applications can be obtained by calling the district office from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday at (717) 840-7430 or (800) 441-2025 (ext. 7430).

To be eligible, the student must be a York County resident; attending a college or university in the U.S.; and majoring in agriculture, conservation, environment, natural resource management or related field. The scholarships is open to first semester students.

Applications must be submitted to the district by Oct. 10.

Berks Annual Roundup

Cathryn (Cathy to friends) wants to return as a leader someday, to "be there to share what I have learned." Cathy, a 2002 graduate of Tulpehocken High School, is taking general business classes at Reading Area Community College, and hopes to attend Penn State to major in ag business.

Cathy said "the best things about (involvement in 4-H) are all the friends and family I have had. Our leaders really helped me."

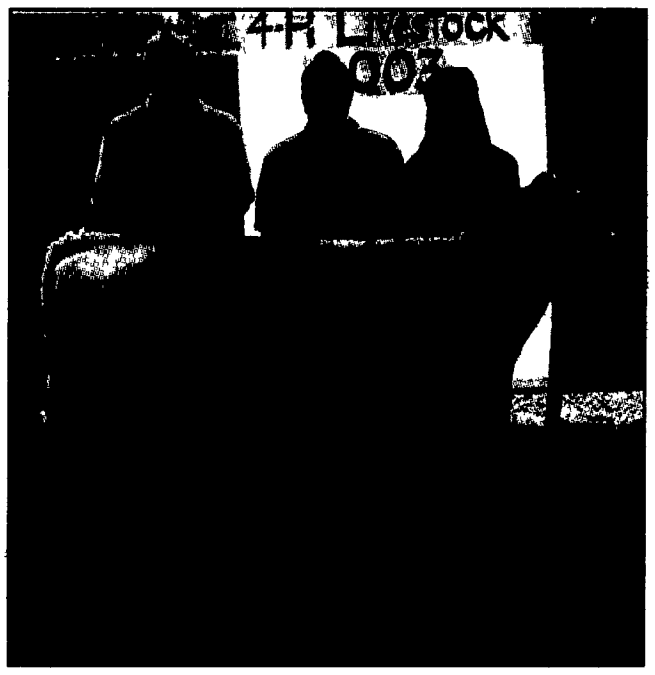
Cathy said that she began showing at Reading Fair when she was 8 years old, with all three species — sheep, hogs, and cattle.

Kristy Dietrich, also a Tulpehocken High School graduate and a freshman at Penn State in animal science, began showing at Kutztown when she was 10, according to her sister, Kelly. Kelly noted her sister would be showing at Farm Show.

Kristy exhibited a homebred crossbred steer at the roundup. The same steer won champion at Kutztown, Oley, Reading, and Allentown fairs.

About 100 bidders were signed up at the start of the sale late last week.

Here are photo results of the sale.



Reserve champion Berks County 4-H dairy beef weighed 550 pounds and was exhibited by Amelia Mengle, Kutztown, right. Fulton Bank Great Valley Division, represented by Mike Firestine, center, and Jeff Bollinger, purchased the dairy beef for $675.

Maria Masemore, Barto, exhibited goat reserve champion at the Berks County 4-H Roundup. The 56-pound goat sold for $200 to Harry Bachman Auctioneer, represented by Mike Firestine, center, and Jeff Bollinger.

Sign Up For Livestock Assistance Program

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Livestock Assistance Program sign-up will end Oct. 24.

This program was authorized for Lancater County livestock producers for grazing losses that occurred in 2002. When the sign-up period ends, the total value of all applications will be determined and, if in excess of the $250 million authorized, will be adjusted proportionately.

This program provides additional relief to livestock producers who suffered grazing losses due to drought and have limited safety net and risk management tools available. To be eligible, a producer's grazing land must be located in Lancaster County.

Producers can visit the Lancaster County FSA Office, and come prepared with a list of livestock by category and weight for the period of loss. Office is located in the Farm and Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster.

To Assist Those In Heavily Damaged Areas With Corn Harvest

A "Corn Harvest Aid Hot Line" has been established in the Gordonville Fire Company to coordinate the farmers who need assistance with corn harvest and custom operators who may be willing to move into the areas needing help. At the moment there still is a need for custom silo-filling services.

If you are in need of assistance or are able to provide equipment, custom chopping service, or are an experienced equipment operator who would be willing to give some time to help, call the hot line at (717) 768-4670. Jacob Blank is serving as the coordinator to match farmers with those who can offer assistance. If you have experience operating a tractor with forage wagons, running a blower or operating a chopper, you services would be greatly appreciated to provide some relief for the crews working long shifts.

Assistance with combining high moisture corn will soon be needed as the unharvested crop is rapidly drying and will soon be too dry for silage. If you have a combine and can assist with that need, call the hot line number as well.

Baltimore County

dustry and for future generations," said Dan Calhoun, chair of the Baltimore County Agricultural Board.

Clarence, George, and Charles Mielke, owners of Trenton Mill Farms in the Piney Run Rural Legacy Area, recently sold the development rights to their farm, bringing the county's total number of preserved acres to 40,000. "These boys have farm blood in them, and the land was passed down to them from their parents. They grew up on the land and have farmed it their whole lives. To see a crop of townhouses would be devastating to them," said Rhoda Mielke, George Mielke's wife.

Trenton Mills Farms is considered one of the most significant agricultural operations in Baltimore County. Working more than 3,000 acres and providing grain services to another 7,000 acres of farmland, this farming operation represents more than 25 percent of the grain production in Baltimore County. Preserving this vital and scenic farm, through the state's Rural Legacy program, perpetuates the watershed protection provided by the farm's 3,200 feet of stream buffers.

In 1985, Drew and Joan Norman took over the family farm in White Hall and converted it into an organic vegetable farm. Growing to become one of the largest farms of its kind in the state, they needed more land to expand. In 1998, Drew's sister, Helen Elmore, sold an easement on their farm to the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation, and used the proceeds to purchase more land, which they lease to the Normans for ogranic vegetable production. "Without the sale of that easement, we would not have been able to do it," Elmore said.

Boordy Vineyards, a nationally recognized local winery, sits on more than 200 acres of preserved land in the Long Green Valley. The DeFord family, who has owned the farm for generations, donated an easement over the entire farm in 2001. This donation was a major event in securing the protection of a critical mass of land in the Long Green Valley. Now, more than 2,000 acres, or more than 30 percent of this scenic 7,000-acre agricultural valley are protected.

"Our decision, as a family, to preserve the farm was part of long-term planning to create the stability for planting a vineyard and for our grandchildren," Rob Deford said. "It is difficult to describe the relationship one has with the land one grows up on. The decision to preserve was easy once we found the right mechanism to use."

Baltimore County is nationally recognized for its strong local land use and preservation policies, with a thirty-year history of active preservation efforts. The first preservation easement in the county was in 1974. Shortly afterward, the county created the Urban Rural Demarcation Line, which established a clear boundary between the urban and suburban areas serviced by public water and sewer, and the area destined to retain its rural flavor. In 1975, the county created Rural Conservation Zones, including an Agricultural Preservation Zone to protect rural resources. Smith, when he served as third District County Councilman, sponsored legislation to make the Agricultural Zone more protective. This protective zone has proven to be a firm foundation upon which preservation programs could build.

The county's preserved lands, combined with its extensive system of parkland, creates a remarkable green network that stretches from the Chesapeake Bay to the Piedmont border with Pennsylvania. "These green expanses are a quality of life asset that few jurisdictions can claim," Smith said. "Reaching this 40,000 acre milestone, and striving to protect 80,000 acres demonstrates our commitment to ensuring this legacy of the land for future generations."

CUSHIONED EGG

ROD CONVEYOR TRANSPORT SYSTEM

Electronic Drives
The innovative, electronically-controlled drive system enables eggs to be transported at a smooth, continuous speed on an endless conveyor with drive units located intermittently up to 150' apart.

Optimum Rod Spacing
Space between each cushioned rod is the key to egg separation and preventing smaller eggs from slipping through the conveyor while allowing all debris to be sifted out.

Design Flexibility
The unique "Cushioned Rod" egg conveyor enables you to custom design a system that gently transports eggs up, down, around corners and in a continuous straight line without transfer, and even declines to match processing equipment.

Custom Corners
The unique radial corner system in the Farmer Automatic rod conveyor can be custom designed to fit 15° through 90° turns.

Uni-Trac Construction
The "Cushioned Rod" egg conveyor is setting industry standards for efficiency. flexibility and cost savings with a unified construction design that eliminates the problems of egg transfer.

Rol-Link Chain System
An endless, custom designed, roller chain system and flexible cushioned plastic rods, cradle eggs in a gentle position that helps eliminate collisions and breakage.

Ideal Conveyor Widths

DEL VAL BREAKS GROUND ON NEW FARM MARKET

Delaware Valley College scheduled a groundbreaking ceremony on its new 8,200 square-foot farm market Thursday morning this week at the corner of New Britain and Lower State Roads in Doylestown.

Construction of the new farm market is supported by a $600,000 grant from the Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development. The Farm Market began as an alternative to selling college produce wholesale and getting minimal return from the fruits and vegetables produced as part of the educational activities. The facility later expanded to include ornamental plants, and in recent years the current market has reached its sales-space capacity.

Costing an estimated $1.2 million, the facility will be constructed on 20 acres and will feature a single-story post-and-beam Dutch Colonial building. The main structure will contain the sales area, a bakery, receiving area, prep/work, and classroom and office space. Able to accommodate parking for 100 Able to accommodate parking for 100, the new facility will be set up to house festivals, pick-your-own operations, farm tours, and demonstration gardens.

As part of the college's core educational program, faculty and students will be engaged in the production of locally grown fruits and vegetables. The college will also provide training and market research information to local farmers. The market will also make available locally produced products by other farmers.

Other long-range plans connected to the market include upgrading the College's production facilities and giving them processing capabilities. The dairy will be able to produce such products as yogurts and soft cheeses.

Open House Oct. 8-9

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — An exciting opportunity is available for high school juniors and seniors considering continuing their education at Penn State.

The Block and Bridle Club, Dairy Science Club, Poultry Science Club, and Students for the Responsible Use of Animals Club are co-sponsoring a Prospective Student Open House, Oct. 8-9 at University Park campus.

This is an opportunity to visit campus, meet and socialize with student leaders in the program area, attend an animal science laboratory class, tour the campus and large animal facilities, have lunch in the dining halls, and meet faculty and staff in the Department of Dairy and Animal Science and the Poultry Science Department. Faculty from the Undergraduate Education Office will answer questions about admissions to Penn State and the College of Agricultural Science.

Arrival and registration is Wednesday, Oct. 9 at 6 p.m. Students will stay overnight with a responsible student. There is no cost to the participants and all meals will be provided. The program will end at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 9.

Preregistration is required. Mail the form to the Animal Sciences Program, 324 W.L. Henning Bldg, University Park, PA 16802 or fax it to (814) 863-6042, attn: Jana Peters. You may also e-mail the registration information to jpeters@psu.edu.

If you have any questions regarding the open house, or the major, call the Animal Sciences Student Services Office at (814) 863-3664. If you are unable to attend and would like to arrange a personal visit to campus on another date, you can contact or Jana Peters at (814) 863-4198 or e-mail her at jpeters@psu.edu

Youth Well-Represented At Plainfield Dairy Shows

DEANNA CUNFER
Carbon Co. Correspondent

BANGOR (Northampton Co.) — The open and youth dairy shows were recently conducted during the Plainfield Farmers' Fair near Bangor.

Alan Hostetter, Lebanon County, judged the open show. Hostetter, in partnership with his father, operates Dale Pride Holsteins near Annville, milking 100 registered Holsteins while juggling a busy showing and judging schedule.

In the open Jersey show, Hostetter named an intermediate yearling, exhibited by Stacy Brewer as his junior champion. Hostetter described the heifer, Brew-Line Cosmo Princess, as being a stylish individual.

Brewer, 10-year-old daughter of Kevin and Lori Brewer, Bangor, is in fifth grade at DeFranco Elementary School.

Dakoda Finken of Pen Argyl exhibited the reserve junior champion.

Finken, 11, is the son of Melissa Finken and in the seventh grade at Wind Gap Middle School.

Hostetter selected the senior 3-year-old entry of Stacy Brewer as grand champion. He described KL Topkick Precious as a good, sound cow with overall substance throughout.

For reserve grand champion Hostetter tapped Brittany Brewer's junior 3-year-old.

Brittany, the 7-year-old daughter of Jeff and Tammy Brewer of Brewer Farms near Bangor will be attending the second grade at Washington Elementary School.

In the open Holstein show, Hostetter reviewed more than 50 entries, selecting the winner of the senior yearling class as his junior champion. Red-Mapl-Spring Leduc Jinny was exhibited by the Longenbach family of Red-Mapl-Spring Farm, Northampton.

Plainfield Farmers' Fair Queen Heather Koehler is shown with senior and grand champions of the open Jersey show. From left; Koehler; Stacy Brewer, 10, with her senior and grand champion; and Brittany Brewer, 7, with the reserve senior and reserve grand champion. Alan Hostetter, rear, judged the event.

Premier breeder and exhibitor at the Plainfield Farmers' Fair open Holstein show was Keystone Farms, Easton. Shown accepting the awards from Fair Queen Heather Koehler are Timothy Seipt, 12; father Doug Seipt; and judge Alan Hostetter.

Keystone Hershel Pansy exhibited by Margaret Seipt captured the junior reserve champion title.

Margaret, 10, is the daughter of Doug and Bonnie Seipt of Keystone Farms.

Senior and grand champion honors went to Keystone Farms' Keystone Shark Dawn, a 4-year-old cow. Hostetter described the tall, framey cow as having real quality, and in full bloom with a lot of youthfulness.

Following in the reserve senior and reserve grand champion spot was Keystone Farm Marissa, a 5-year-old cow, also exhibited by Keystone Farms.

Meranda Sellers judged the youth dairy and round-up show the next day. Sellers, a graduate of Penn State with a major in dairy and animal science, owns Glen Rock Holsteins near Lebanon where, along with her husband and two daughters, she milks 60 registered Holsteins.

As champion fitter and showman Sellers selected Stephanie Brewer, 12, daughter of Kevin and Lori Brewer, Bangor. Stephanie, 13, in seventh grade at Bangor Middle School.

As junior champion of the Jersey show, Sellers selected the junior calf of Krissa Brewer, Bryncoed Hadyn Humphrey.

The senior and grand champion of the Jersey show was awarded to Stacy Brewer's Dec. KL Topkick Precious. This cow captured the same titles the previous day for Brewer in the open Jersey show. Following in the reserve senior and reserve champion spot was Krissa Brewer's Brew-Line Berretta Dairy.

In the youth Holstein show, Sellers selected the intermediate yearling class winner of Jeremy Smith as junior champion. Sellers described Kirbyville — J Mizer Pammy as being a straight-tracking beautiful heifer with style and a nice front end.

Smith, 15, son of Regina and Dean Smith is attending tenth grade at Northampton High School.

The reserve junior rosette went to Timothy Seipt with Keystone Forbid Pine. Seipt, 12-year-old son of Doug and Bonnie Seipt of Keystone Farms near Easton has completed the sixth grade at Lehigh Valley Seventh Day Adventist School and will be home schooled for seventh grade starting this fall.

Seipt then saw his winner of the junior three-year-old class move into the senior and grand champion spot of the youth Holstein show.

Brew-Line Bestow Jangle exhibited by Stephanie Brewer was named the reserve senior and reserve grand champion of the youth Holstein show.

The fair posted the following results:

Waverly Farm Cows Make A Sweep In Mid-Atlantic Jersey Show

DAVE LEFEVER
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Hermitage Counciller Sheba, a young Jersey cow exhibited by Waverly Farm, was called the best of the best at the All-American Dairy Show last week.

The junior-3-year-old Mid-Atlantic Regional Jersey Show champion came out on top of seven breed winners to be named supreme cow during the All-American grand finale Thursday, Sept. 25.

Sheba is owned and exhibited by Ken, Mike, and Paul Stiles of Waverly Farm, Clearbrook, Va.

Waverly Farm also showed Giprat Renn Anastasia-ET, the aged cow who was the senior champion and reserve grand champion in the Mid-Atlantic Regional Jersey Show, as well as Glenholme Jesters Madeline, reserve intermediate champion (behind Sheba), and the reserve junior champion heifer.

Charles and Susan Luchsinger of Silver Spring Farm, Syracuse, N.Y. exhibited Peninsula Jade Leanne, the reserve senior champion.

Michael, Leah, and Chris Birch of White Hall, Md. showed the junior champion heifer, a spring yearling named Harbor Creste TG Patty Cake.

In the youth division, Scott Walton showed the grand champion Jersey, Tower-Vue Terror, a senior 2-year-old who was also best bred and owned of the youth show.

Heather Pease of Susquehanna exhibited the Jersey youth reserve champion, Sweet-Peas Ren Dash-ET.

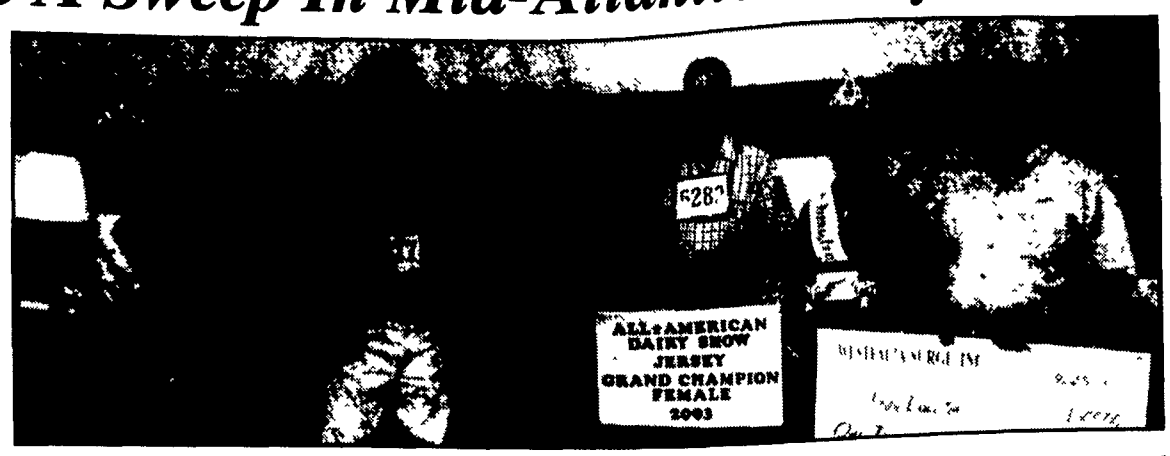
Pease also showed the youth senior champion and youth reserve senior champion, Sweet-Peas Ren Delight and Sweet-Peas DC Magic, respectively.

Scott Fisher of New Enterprise exhibited the youth junior champion, followed by Thomas Mason of Chestertown, Md. with the youth junior reserve champion heifer.

During the show, Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture Dennis Wolff joined All-American leaders in honoring the family of the late John Stiles, Spring Valley Farm, Westminster, Md.

Wayne and Allen Stiles, sons of John, accepted a painted milk can in recognition of the family having exhibited at the All-American since it began in 1964.

Brian Garrison of Tiffon, Ohio, judged the Jersey show and joined judges Curtis Day and Michael Deaver in selecting the supreme champion cow.



Hermitage Counciller Sheba, cow on right, is the Mid-Atlantic Jersey Show grand champion. She went on to be named supreme champion at the All-American. Joining the lineup here are, from left, Pam Werley, Pennsylvania Alternate Dairy Princess; Paul Stiles of Waverly Farm with the reserve champion; Chris Hill with Sheba, for Waverly Farm; Carla Martin, Pennsylvania Dairy Princess; and John Parks, presenting check.

HEADQUARTERS FOR SPRAYERS & PUMPS

Liquid Applicators

This applicator is designed to be used on balers and harvesters for applying liquid inoculates and acids. It is mounted on the baler or harvester and a hose is connected to one or two spray nozzles. A Shurflo 12 volt diaphragm pump provides the power for spraying. A selection of spray tips and a calibration chart gives various options for a wide range of application rates. More tips are available if the ones included cannot be adapted. The kit includes all the hardware necessary for installing the applicator in most applications. The 25 gallon unit is also available with a remote pressure control.

Specifications
- 1.4 GPM, 12 volt Shurflo pump, 60 PSI max.
- Incline filter
- Pressure regulator
- Glycerin filled pressure gauge
- 15 or 25 gallon tank
- 18' wiring harness with switch and fuse
- 15' hose, 2 nozzle bodies, 4 tips sizes and hose clamps included.

Firestine

Livestock Show, Kansas City, Mo.; the Reno Livestock Show in Reno, Nev.; the Fort Worth Livestock Show in Fort Worth, Texas; and the National Western Stock Show in Denver, Colo.

Firestine noted that it has been a "roller-coaster" year. He said that on May 13, he lost his house to a fire. "I am blessed with good friends and neighbors," said Firestine. They helped clean up and rebuild quickly.

Another large accomplishment, Firestine noted, was his appointment as chairman of the American Bankers Association Agricultural and Rural Affairs Committee in Washington, D.C. He is vice chairman now, and will take over the chair next year.

Firestine, treasurer of KILE, noted his bank sponsors the Agri-Olympics and the Kid's Pedal Tractor Pull at KILE. And Firestine will be showing seven head of cattle at the KILE Hereford Show.

Firestine's daughters also have some work on their hands, too. Margeaux, National Polled Hereford Queen, will travel to Michigan with her dad this month. Martene will accompany Morgan, Pennsylvania Beef Ambassador, to Omaha, Neb. also this month.

Firestine has seen the agricultural loan department at Fulton/LVNB grow. He began as assistant manager of the Womelsdorf office in 1976, handling all types of loans. The new president came in a segregated ag and commercial loans.

Firestine was a "one person" staff when he began working in that department in 1978. The $4 million in outstanding loans from 1976 grew to a total of $254 million outstanding today. Today, the ag group numbers eight full time and one part-time, including three lenders, three credit analysts, two credit assistants, and a part-time person.

Firestine began his association with the Hereford breed when he purchased a purebred cow in 1974. He has 35 cows, all breeding stock, and grazes them all at the farm near Womelsdorf.

Firestine serves as a board member of PLA. He is treasurer of the Pennsylvania Farm Show Scholarship Foundation, president of the Pennsylvania Hereford Association, ag development advisory board member for the Department of Environmental Protection; is member of the Pennsylvania Livestock Evaluation Center Advisory committee; co-chair of the Pennsylvania Farm Show Beef Committee; chairman, Pennsylvania Agriculture Republicans; board member, Livestock Advisory Board, Delaware Valley College; and is on the Pennsylvania Agricultural By-product Management Technology Board.

Firestine is a member of the Masons, Mount Lebanon 226, and a member of Zembo Shrine.

KILE began on Tuesday this week and continues through Monday.

"We are extremely pleased to host one of the leading international livestock shows in the country," said Agriculture Secretary Dennis C. Wolff. "This year, you will find a new and improved Farm Show Complex, including an exposition hall totaling 175,000 square feet, an equine arena, and a new livestock barn. This expansion gives KILE the room it needs to grow, and provides an excellent venue to showcase some of the leading livestock and horses in the U.S."

More than 1,400 exhibitors and 5,000 livestock are expected to fill the Farm Show Complex during KILE. During this time, more than $200,000 in premiums will be awarded to youth and open participants.

"There are many exciting events happening at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition. Just as we welcome agriculture, we look forward to welcoming all of our visitors and exhibitors from across the United States and Canada. I hope that you can take advantage of the many opportunities to experience agriculture at its finest," said Wolff.

The Farm Show Complex is open daily for KILE from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Special shows begin at 6 p.m. Friday and at 7 p.m. Saturday. Parking and admission are free.

Windy-Knoll-View Cow Rises To Top At Eastern National Holstein Show

DAVE LEFEVER
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Windy-Knoll-View Promis-ET, a cow bred, owned, and exhibited by James and Nina Burdette, Mercersburg, was selected as grand champion of the Eastern National Holstein Show on the final day of the All-American Dairy Show in Harrisburg last week.

It was a banner week for the Burdettes and this champion cow family. A pair of Promis's spring yearling daughters, Windy-Knoll-View Parade and Windy-Knoll-View Pledge, placed first and second in their class, respectively. These full sisters were sired by Comestar Outside-ET.

Earlier in the week, Parade and Pledge were picked as junior champion and reserve junior champion, respectively, in the Pennsylvania Holstein Championship Show.

Promis, a 5-year-old, was also best bred and owned animal in the show. She was sired by Startmore Rudolph-ET and her dam is Windy-Knoll-View Ultimate Pala. Beside being a superb type cow, Promis tallied a 305-day lactation record of 37,351 pounds of milk, 1,378 pounds of fat, and 1,176 pounds of protein.

George Malkemus and Anthony Yurgaitis of Arethusa Farm, Litchfield, Conn., showed the reserve grand champion cow, senior-2-year-old, Santschi Leduc Victoria.

Victoria was the intermediate champion of the show, followed by T-Farm Durham Premium, a senior-3-year-old exhibited by Randy and Tara Taylor of Bouckville, N.Y.

Faith and Olivia Strowd and Elizabeth Finke of Oakvale Farm, London, Ohio, exhibited the junior champion, Bar-Lee Oakvale Autumn, a fall yearling.

Jerome Rappaport of Lylehaven Farm, East Montpelier, Vt. showed the reserve junior champion, Lylehaven Durham Poppy, a winter calf.

Rappaport was named premier breeder and exhibitor.

In the youth division, Ryan Savage of Knoxville, Md., showed both the grand champion cow and also swept the youth intermediate show.

Lylehaven Lindy Dalila-ET, Savage's 5-year-old cow, was grand champion and went on to be named youth supreme champion of seven breeds at the All-American.

Scott Walton of Carlisle showed the reserve grand champion, Tower Vue Lee Ruthie, a 4-year-old cow who was also selected as best bred and owned in the youth show.

Savage-Leigh Star Gazer, a junior 2-year-old, was Savage's champion entry in the intermediate youth show, followed by his junior 3-year-old reserve intermediate champion, Savage-Leigh Astro Hazette.

Scott and Brian Landis of Creeknook Holsteins, Goshen, Ind. exhibited the youth junior champion, Earlen Terrason Steph, a summer yearling heifer.

Reserve champion in the youth junior show went to Turnpike View Redmarker Joy, shown by Dustin Horning, Turnpike View Holsteins, Stevens.

Committees Conduct Joint Meeting

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Recommendations to improve the Farm Show facility in light of a recent performance audit were presented at a joint informational meeting of the Senate and House Agriculture and Rural Affairs Committee, according to Senate Agriculture Committee Chariman Mike Waugh (R-28).

Assistant Comptroller for Audits Steve Swalm said that the recent audit showed that a lack of management controls, poor communication, and questionable business practices had caused a deficit for the Farm Show Complex. The audit made several recommendations to improve the operations of the facility, including hiring a marketing representative and a financial expert.

Bureau of Farm Show Director Ed Nielsen said he expected to fill these positions quickly, and that action on some of the recommendations was already being taken. Nielsen also outlined a number of new events that would boost revenue for the Farm Show to help in reducing the facility's deficit.

Swalm said that the deficit at the end of the audit was roughly $3 million, but that the current number may be lower. In addition to the changes recommended in the audit, Waugh has proposed using $1 million from the Farm Operations account to reduce the deficit.

and director of the Warren County Board of Freeholders and Rick Gardner, deputy director Freeholder of Warren County. Also participating in the opening ceremonies were Northeast Small Farm and Rural Living Expo Chairman Gregory Solt; Ron Good, representing New Jersey Dept. of Ag; and Les Hulcoop, Cornell Cooperative Extension.

The 2003 New Jersey Ag Ambassador and 2004 New Jersey Beef Industry Council Ambassador Allison Jiraldi and Warren County Fair Queen Susan Stecker participated in the ceremony and presided over the two-day expo. Jiraldi is a Somerset County native and Stecker resides in Harmony, N.J.

Hulcoop invited everyone to attend the 2004 expo as it travels to the Ulster County Fairgrounds, New Paltz, N.Y. The 2004 expo is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 18 and Sunday, Sept. 19.

Intended to provide education, sources, and support for those interested in small farms and rural living the expo does exactly that. Cooperative extension and department of ag agencies from all three states were on hand with displays, exhibits, and educational lectures. Individual breeders of various species of livestock suitable for the small farm operation were seen throughout the fairgrounds and equipment and machinery dealers were on hand to demonstrate and answer questions during the event.

The Well-Tempered String Band and Lost Ramblers provided music as visitors shopped at the farmers' market vendors and examined the many samples and woolen items produced from llama, alpaca, cashmere goats, and different species of sheep.

A few of the sheep breeders who brought displays included the Jacob and CVM Romeldale sheep owned by the May family of Swayze Inn Farm near Hope, N.J. and the baby doll sheep of Susan Gural, Washington, N.J. With the sheep and wool festival conducted during the expo, there were many spinners in the tents working with the beautiful wool of their breed. One group that has been at the expo for the past three years is Blue Mountain Fibers from Pennsylvania with Carole Holder and Evelyn Barone of Slatington and Donna Faturos of Saylorsburg. The women were spinning wool from cashmere goats and Corriedale sheep.

With an emphasis on animals suitable for smaller parcels of property a visitor could find breeders representing both ends of the size scale of several species.

There was Susan Gural and Tucker Hartshorne of Rosie's Petites, Washington, N.J. with their miniature donkeys, baby doll sheep, and 2-month-old petite potbellied pigs. Gural and Hartshorne are certified breeders and members of the North American Potbellied Pig Association (NAPPA) and have concentrated their efforts on breeding to retain the petite or smaller potbellied pig. The couple sell their animals as pets and have done movie and TV work with their animals as well as developing a greeting card line showcasing their animals.

A larger breed of the porcine species was the display of SO - N - SO Acres with Erich and Anna Sodtalbers Jr. bringing their 5-week-old litter of piglets with their Hampshire - Duroc cross sow.

From miniature horses to draft horses the equine building and arena were busy both days as workshops explaining the various breeds and their use and riding and driving methods filled the arena. The Jubal's Troop Equestrian Team consisting of 12 horses entertained the visitors with their precision drill work.

The big and small of cattle breeds were on display to help visitors decide what breed might be best suited for their lifestyle. Ron and Ruth Galvin of Rainbow Hill Farm, Flemington, N.J., returned to the expo with their registered Highland cattle. Ben Przewozny and son, Ben, of B & B Livestock Farm returned with their registered Hereford cow and calf representing the New Jersey Polled Hereford Association.

This is the third year the Przewozny family has brought Suzanne and her calf to the expo. Although young Ben was proud to use Suzanne's first two calves for his 4-H market steer projects, he

Two Colors — Black And White — Fill Ring At Carbon Beef Show

DEANNA CUNFER
Carbon Co. Correspondent

PALMERTON (Carbon Co.) — No one planned it that way, but only two colors appeared in the ring during the Carbon County Fair beef show.

Everything was black and white for Judge Cheryl Fairbairn, Chester County extension director and breeder of Angus cattle, the day she judged the breeding beef, market steer, and dairy beef competition at the Carbon County Fair.

Starting with the 4-H and open breeding beef competition, Fairbairn only had one breed to review — Angus. As her 4-H champion fitter and champion showman she selected last-year member, Justin Cunfer, son of Dennis and Deanna Cunfer of Never Done Farm near Lehighton. Cunfer is a second-year student at Penn State University Park majoring in animal science with a career goal of large-animal veterinarian.

As her champion heifer calf, Fairbairn selected Cunfer's April 2003 spring heifer calf, NDF Blackbird Brandie 301, daughter of W V U Grant 1423. Cunfer's spring yearling heifer, the April 2002 daughter of WVF HB Atlantic Natl Merit, NDF Majestic Meri-Tia 201, then received the champion yearling heifer rosette.

Grand champion Angus heifer and the supreme beef heifer banner went to NDF Blackbird Bridget 101, the January 2001 cow from Cunfer's cow/calf entry. This daughter of GAR Commitment captured the same honors at the fair last year for Cunfer.

All three champions of Cunfer were bred and owned and part of his Angus and Angus-based herd of 22 animals that started with his first 4-H heifer bought in 1999.

Moving to the 4-H market steer competition Fairbairn selected Lee Shoenberger, 15-year-old son of Dan and Ann Shoenberger, Palmerton, as champion fitter with brother, Kerry taking the reserve fitter award. Lee is in the 10th grade. Kerry, 17, is a senior at Lehighton High School.

The champion showman honors went to Kerry Shoenberger. Reserve showman ribbon went to Josh Kemmerer.

Not knowing before the event that all the entries of the market steer competition were Angus, Fairbairn, an angus breeder herself, was amidst a familiar color as she selected Kemmerer's April 2002 entry sired by WVF HB Atlantic Natl Merit as the champion market steer. Fairbairn described the 1,291-pound champion as being clean in his front end, the heaviest muscled of the competition, and having a tremendous hind quarter. During the annual 4-H livestock sale, Kemmerer sold his champion to the Chas. S. Snyder New Holland dealership for the high bid of $2,000.

Kemmerer, 18-year-old son of Violet and the late Leroy Kemmerer of Big Creek Farms near Lehighton, also breeds and shows dairy and Boer market goats. This being his last year of 4-H eligibility, Kemmerer is a second-year student at Penn State Lehigh campus majoring in ag engineering.

The reserve champion market steer rosette went to Kerry Shoenberger's 1,283-pound entry. Gew Farms purchased the reserve champion for $1,700 during the 4-H livestock sale later that week.

Black and white then filled the ring as Fairbairn reviewed the 23 entries of the dairy beef competition. Weights for the entries ranged from 404 to 698 pounds divided into five classes.

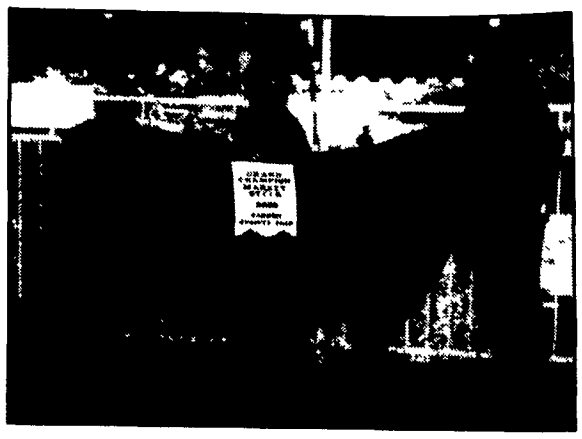
As her champion fitter of the 16 exhibitors in the dairy beef competition, Fairbairn selected Lee Shoenberger with brother Kerry following into the reserve fitter spot. The brothers also captured the same titles earlier in the market steer competition.

Senior showman Ashley Barry was tapped as the champion showman with Kari Bauchspies from the intermediate division being named reserve champion showman. Barry, 16-year-old daughter of Guy and Priscilla Barry of Countryside Acres near Lehighton, is a senior at Lehighton High School. Bauchspies, 14, is the daughter of Jeff and Pam Bauchspies and also attends Lehighton High School.

In their first year to complete the dairy beef project, Stephen and Kevin Bond, 13 and 11, respectively, rose to the top as Stephen saw his 624-pound entry from the light heavyweight class capture the grand champion honors. Fairbairn described the champion as having a lot of bone, muscle through the hind quarter, and room to grow.

Kevin Bond's 677-pound winner of the heavyweight class was described as having a tremendous loin, heavy muscles, and standing on a lot of bone as Fairbairn presented Kevin with the reserve champion rosette. The brothers are sons of Ken and Lee Bond and also completed the market swine project this year.

Hometown Farmers' Market purchased the champion of Stephen Bond for $1,400 during the 4-H livestock sale. Palmerton Garage Doors was the top bidder at $1,115 for Kevin's reserve champion dairy beef.



Judge Cheryl Fairbairn selected the 1,291-pount entry of Josh Kemmerer, Lehighton, as the grand champion market steer of the Carbon County Fair. Kemmerer, 18, sold his champion to the Chas. S. Snyder New Holland dealership for a high bid of $2,000 at the annual 4-H livestock sale.

Brubaker Judges Carbon Fair Sheep Show

DEANNA CUNFER
Carbon Co. Correspondent

PALMERTON (Carbon Co.) — Clyde Brubaker of Lebanon judged the recent 4-H market lamb and 4-H and open breeding sheep shows at the Carbon County Fair. A breeder of crossbred and purebred Hampshire sheep, Brubaker sells club lambs as well as being an independent contractor for a mineral supply company.

In the 4-H market lamb fitting and showmanship competition, Brubaker selected Ashley Barry, 16, daughter of Guy and Priscilla Barry of Countryside Acres near Lehighton as his grand champion fitter and grand champion showman, saying he liked the way she walked the lamb and had no problem keeping her eye on the judge. Barry will be a senior at Lehighton High School this year. She raises sheep, goats, and poultry on the family farm.

Barry saw her 110-pound entry from the heavyweight class named grand champion market lamb. Brubaker described the lamb as having a lot of balance with a well-muscled lower leg. During the annual 4-H livestock sale, Barry sold her champion lamb to the Chas. S. Snyder New Holland dealership of Tamaqua for a $750 bid.

Barry's 100-pound mediumweight lamb was named reserve grand champion. The lamb sold to Gilbert Pittinger for $650 during the annual 4-H livestock sale.

In the 4-H breeding show, Brubaker named Laura Mazur as his champion fitter and champion showman.

In the 4-H and open Shropshire competition, Mazur's bred-and-owned ewe, Too Busy Acres Isabell, received the grand champion Shropshire ewe rosette.

In the 4-H and open Suffolk division, Barry's two bred and owned spring ram lambs took grand and reserve champion ram honors.

Mazur exhibited the grand champion Suffolk ewe, a yearling Brubaker called very complete and correct with a lot of balance. The reserve champion Suffolk ewe title went to a yearling shown by Barry.

In reviewing the Montadale breed entries, Brubaker selected Mazur's bred-and-owned ram lamb, Too Busy Acres ShowBiz, as the grand champion Montadale ram. Mazur's Too Busy Acres Iris followed as the reserve champion ram.

Mazur's ewes received the grand champion and reserve champion Montadale ewe titles.

In the other breeds division, Barry competed with her bred-and-owned Suffolk crossbred ewe lambs with her Countryside Acres 66 receiving the grand champion title and her Countryside Acres 65 accepting the reserve champion rosette. Both ewes were born in April 2003.

Ending the sheep show, Brubaker selected Mazur's Too Busy Acres ShowBiz from the Montadale breed as the grand champion 4-H and open grand champion ram of show and Mazur's Too Busy Acres Freedom, a Suffolk, as the 4-H and open grand champion ewe of show.

Small Farm Expo

longed for a heifer to continue the cow's bloodline in his herd. Young Ben was delighted when Suzanne produced a March heifer this year.

Representing the New Jersey Angus Breeders was President Corne' Vogelaar, manager of River Bend Farm, Far Hills, N.J. Vogelaar and son Jay brought two Angus to the expo. Chef Roland Pasche, Ismay Landing, N.J., served samples of beef recipes to the visitors of the expo.

Returning to the expo with his 7-year-old ox, Tom, was Tom Mulea of Oxford, N.J. Mulea demonstrated the ox's abilities throughout the event giving pointers on training cattle to harness. One of the questions visitors frequently asked Mulea was why the ox wore the basket-type muzzle. Mulea said Tom knows it is time to work and not eat when the basket muzzle is worn. He said if the muzzle were not worn, Tom, at more than 2,200 pounds, would eat his way through whatever stood in front of him.

As in years past, Border Collie handler, trainer, and breeder Gene Sheninger, Boonton, N.J. was a real crowd pleaser as he conducted sheep herding demonstrations with his dogs. To show the dogs' abilities, Sheninger also had the dogs move ducks through an obstacle course and return them to their cage.

Educational literature was available throughout the expo from the exhibitors, which included livestock breeders, machinery and supply dealers, government agencies, ag publications, and fruit and vegetable associations.

Carbon County Fair Posts Dairy Results

DEANNA CUNFER
Carbon Co. Correspondent

PALMERTON (Carbon Co.) — Friday at the Carbon County Fair saw the 4-H and open dairy shows start the day with Mike Swartley, herdsman of the production facility for Select Sires and graduate of Delaware Valley College returning to judge the event.

Although Carbon is not known as a large dairy county, it is however surrounded by counties with large dairy herds and 4-H clubs. Most of the members of the Carbon County 4-H Livestock Club complete market projects with a few managing their own sheep, goat, or beef breeding projects.

For the first time in several years, Carbon County had a 4-H member complete the dairy project which has increased interest and the possibility of more for future years.

Starting with the 4-H fitting and showmanship competitions, Swartley selected Rebecca Cunfer as champion fitter and champion showman. Cunfer, 15-year-old daughter of Bart and Margie Cunfer, is in the 10th grade at Lehighton High School. This year she completed the market goat, dairy, and dairy beef projects and was secretary of the Carbon County 4-H Livestock Club. Cunfer also exhibited her heifer at the dairy district show.

For his 4-H supreme dairy heifer, Swartley selected the April 2003 entry of Cunfer, Paulin Garter Rylee, a daughter of Welcome Garter — ET, from the spring heifer class describing the champion as having fairly good openness of rib for a young heifer.

In the open dairy show's Brown Swiss division, Swartley selected the June 2002 daughter of Gearing's Patrick Camelot, Dunn's-Pride Cam Beautiful, exhibited by Robert Dunn as the junior and grand champion. Swartley described the champion as being a sound calf and well grown for her age.

Moving to the Holstein portion of the open dairy show, Swartley went with the winner of the winter yearling heifer class as his junior and grand champion. Lylehaven Crissy — ET, the Dec. 2001 entry of James Dunn was described as being long-bodied and having a good set of feet and legs as well as having good size for her age.

David Dunn then saw his summer yearling heifer, the June 2002 Dunn's-Pride Allen Cheryl, tapped for the reserve junior and reserve champion rosette. Swartley described the reserve champion as having a lot of dairyness, sharpness over the shoulders, and good depth.

Dunn's Pride Holsteins then swept the group classes, capturing the top spot in the exhibitor's herd, produce of dam, and get of sire classes.

Supreme champion honors went to James Dunn and his Holstein grand champion with Swartley saying the heifer was a tremendous individual.

Youth Profit From Strong Livestock Sale At West Lampeter

DAVE LEFEVER
Lancaster Farming Staff

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.) — Youth exhibitors ran 182 animals through the sale ring at the recent West Lampeter Community Fair Livestock Sale.

The count included 20 steers, 113 hogs, and 47 lambs. Two dairy beef were also auctioned this year — the first time West Lampeter Community Fair has hosted a dairy beef show and sale.

Tiffany Dean, 4-H exhibitor from Strasburg, sold three champion animals.

Dean's 1,276-pound steer sold to H.L. Wiker and Sons for $3,600, making it the top-selling animal at the auction.

Tiffany Dean is at the halter of her 4-H champion steer, selling for $3,600 at the West Lampeter Community Fair. Joining Dean is buyer Jeff Wiker of H.L. Wiker and Sons, and Rebecca Zurbrick, fair queen.

At the first-ever dairy beef sale at the West Lampeter Community Fair, Katie Andrews leads her champion animal, which sold to Andrews Excavating for $800. Randy Andrews, right, stands in for the buyer. Joining them is Rebecca Zurbrick, fair queen.

Tiffany Dean, right, sold her champion market lamb for $1,000 to Engle Printing, represented here by John Hemperly. Fair Queen Rebecca Zurbrick is on the left.

Erin Eckman's champion FFA steer sold for $3,000 to Shaub Family Auction, represented here by Hendrik Ercksens and Jessica Shaub. Fair Queen Rebecca Zurbrick is on the right.

Her champion hog, a Hampshire/Yorkshire crossbred, went to Strasburg Market Basket for $1,700. Dean contributed a portion of her pig proceeds to help build additional hog washing racks at the Lampeter Fairgrounds.

Engle Printing bought Dean's 134-pound lamb for $1,000.

Erin Eckman of Manor FFA received $3,000 for her FFA champion steer, weighing in at 1,346 pounds. Shaub Family Auction was the buyer.

Andrew Herr's FFA champion hog, a 256-pounder, sold to Farmers First Bank for $1,200. Herr is a member of the Manor FFA.

Katie Andrews, a second-year 4-H'er and fifth-grader at Hans Herr School, received $800 for her champion 822-pound dairy beef. Andrews Excavating was the buyer.

Savage Wins Youth Supreme Champion At All American

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Lylehaven Lindy Dalila-ET, a stylish 5-year-old owned by Ryan Savage, 21, Knoxville, Md., won supreme champion of the youth show at the 40th All American Dairy Show at the state Farm Show Complex.

Savage took home $2,000 in cash sponsored by LIRA Animal Health Products, of Churubusco, N.Y., and a $1,000 savings bond presented by Semex USA as the grand champion of the Youth Holstein Show.

Savage is a veteran of the show ring. He has been showing cattle since he was five years old, following in his father's footsteps. His parents Wayne and Cindee Savage own and operate Savage-Leigh farm.

Lylehaven Lindy Dalila-ET is a 94-point 5-year-old that has a current 365-day production record exceeding 40,000m, 4.6%f, and 3.4%p. Going back three generations, this cow family is scored excellent. She previously won Junior All American and the Maryland State Fair Futurity.

Also competing for the supreme champion prize was the grand champion in each of the youth shows. The Ayrshire grand champion is Sunny Acres Proly Jem, owned by Andrew E. Evans of Georgetown, N.Y. The Brown Swiss grand champion, a repeat winner from last year, was Brothers Three Wisper OCS, owned by Jacob Hushon of Airville. The Guernsey grand champion, Crown Stone Jason Helga, is owned by Jeremy Schnebly of Clear Spring, Md. Steven Kuszlyk of Batavia, N.Y., exhibited the grand champion Milking Shorthorn, Kuszmar D.J. Pris. Scott Walton of Carlisle with Tower Vue Terror exhibited the grand champion of the Youth Jersey Show. These winners each received a $1,000 savings bond courtesy of Tom and Amy Colpetzer of Greenville.

Honors for the first-ever grand champion of the Youth Red and White Show went to Brittany Myers of Mt. Union, with Myerose Fantast Mystic. ADM/Alliance presented Myers with a $1,000 savings bond.

week to the next. There was 216 head of bulls in the overall graded run that will see a kill floor in the near future, which goes to show demand is increasing. Holstein bull calves going into special-fed veal barns sold sharply higher on all grades 94- 96 lb Number 2 bulls sold as much as 8.00 higher that the same weight in the Number 1 supply. The real bell-ringer was on a 27 head set of 94-96 lb Number 2 bulls which sold for 200.00, or 23.00 higher than the same weight in the Number 1 calves. Needless-to-say, demand was good throughout the graded sale, and obviously grew by the time the auctioneer got to the Number 2 side of the graded sheet. Holstein heifers sold steady to weak on a fairly light supply. The PA Department of Agriculture graded 586 head of bulls for the graded sale, with an estimated 64 percent of the graded run going into veal barns.

Slaughter Calves: Number 2, Number 3, and Utility 60-120 lbs 64 00-86.00 in the graded sale. Standard and Utility in the regular sale 70-125 lbs 70.00- 85.00, weaker 27.00-45.00.

Calves Going into Special-fed Veal Barns: Graded Number 1 Holstein bulls 120-124 lbs 145.00; 114-118 lbs 160.00; 90-112 lbs 175.00-180.00; 80-88 lbs 78.00-81.00. Graded Number 2 Holstein bulls 120-124 lbs 135.00; 106-118 lbs 157.00-162.00; 102-104 lbs 180.00; 98-100 lbs 188.00; 94-96 lbs 200.00; 88-92 lbs 160.00. Graded Number 3 Holstein bulls 105-130 lbs 95.00-97.00. Few nice Holstein bulls 130-135 lbs in the regular sale 120.00-144.00. Holstein heifers 90-125 lbs 560.00-600.00. Plainer heifers 90-125 lbs 380.00-520.00; 80-90 lbs 260.00-410.00; 70-80 lbs up to 230.00. Weaker heifers 90-125 lbs 130.00-220.00; 80-90 lbs 110.00-180.00; 70-80 lbs 100.00-170.00.

Sheep and Lambs: Compared to Monday, slaughter lams sold with a higher undertone. However, remember the late week supply is usually much lighter than the Monday run; therefore, even moderate demand late in the week can greatly outweigh the late week supply, thus driving prices higher. Slaughter sheep sold with a steady to firm undertone.

Slaughter Lambs: Choice and Prime 2-3 three 20 lbs 152.00; 50-60 lbs 108.00- 134.00, fancy 147.00-175.00; 60-70 lbs 107.00-135.00; 70-80 lbs 112.00-120.00; 80-90 lbs 103.00-113.00; 90-100 lbs 97.00-115.00, mostly 100.00-107.00; 100-125 lbs 89.00-100.00, mostly 96.00-100.00.

Slaughter Sheep: Utility and Good 1-3 sheep 100-200 lbs 40.00-59.00, mostly 46.00-50.00; couple 210-220 lbs 30.00-37.00

Slaughter Goats: Compared to Mondays 1100 head run, a light test of all classes sold with a higher undertone. This was due to the excellent late week demand. However, just like the lambs, when the run fluctuates so much from early to late week even moderate demand can translate into much higher prices. All goats are sold by the head, weights are estimated.

Kids: Selection 1-2 20-40 lbs 36.00-50.00. Selection 3 20-40 lbs 30.00-40.00, poorer 15.00-25.00; couple 40- 50 lbs 46.00.

Yearlings: Selection 1-2 60-80 lbs 62.00-70.00.

Nannies: Selection 1 70-100 lbs 83.00-86.00; 150 lb individual 92.00. Selection 2 50-70 lbs 40.00-62.00; 70-100 lbs 56.00-72.00; 100-150 lbs 74.00-82.00. Selection 3 50-70 lbs 30.00-38.00, includes some pigmies; 70-100 lbs 52.00-60.00, poorer 44.00-46.00; 100-150 lbs 65.00-78.00.

Billies: Selection 1 70-100 lbs 88.00-98.00; 100-150 lbs 100.00-126.00; 150-250 lbs 134.00-158.00, couple fancy 168.00-174.00. Selection 2 70-100 lbs 84.00-92.00; 100-150 lbs 92.00-118.00; one 170 lbs 140.00. Selection 3 70-100 lbs 68.00-76.00.

Wethers: Few 50-100 lbs 52.00-74.00; 100-150 lbs 114.00-124.00.

Lancaster County Weekly Cattle

New Holland, Pa.
Report Supplied By USDA
Friday, Oct. 3, 2003

	CATTLE	CALVES
THIS WEEK	2275	1925
LAST WEEK	2468	1856

This week in Lancaster County, the bulk of the Choice and high Choice slaughter steers sold mostly steady, with some weakness noted late in the week. Low Choice grades and lower sold steady to firm, with heavier muscled Select steers as much as 2.00 higher late in the week. Receipts in Lancaster County are becoming lighter as the high market over the past couple of months has brought a lot of steers to town. This is making it somewhat difficult to find the really hard and long-feds. Nationally, the western direct feedyards gained 1.00-2.00 this week with live sales in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas at mostly 90.00. Nebraska feedyards received from 93.00-95.00 for their live cattle, mostly 1.00 higher Nebraska dressed sales from 145.00-147.00, or 2 00 higher. Live cattle contracts at the CME are pretty much aligned with the current cash trade, with spot October closing at 89.50 on Thursday The spot October feeder cattle contract at the Merc closed at 101.57 on Thursday as feeder cattle markets remain very bullish. There is starting to be some weakness noted on calves across the U.S., especially if they are unvaccinated and bawling. Everyone knows that fall brings pleasant days and cold nights, making it tough to get a load of calves lined out. However, yearling demand couldn't be any better, with a very good run (over 2300 head) of feeder cattle late last week in Staunton, VA quoting heavy 7 weights up to 102.00, with heavy 8 weights up to 96.00; which had locals talking early in the week. Cutout values have come down a little over the week, but are still good; Choice cuts from around 157.00-158.00, with the Select cutout still holding a hefty discount at mostly 123.00. Back in the County, Holstein slaughter steers sold steady to firm, with a fancy load of reputation-fed Holsteins on Monday fetching as much as 86.00. Slaughter heifers sold steady to 1.00 higher. Slaughter cows sold 1.00-3.00 lower early in the week, with late week demand picking up with Lean cows up to 1.00 higher, and fleshier cows as much as 3.50 higher. Slaughter bulls sold 1.00-4.00 lower for the week. The reported supply this week in Lancaster County included 636 head of slaughter steers, 112 head of slaughter heifers, 1036 head of slaughter cows, 197 head of slaughter bulls, and 294 head of feeder cattle.

National Feeder Cattle Weekly Review

St. Joseph, Mo.
September 26, 2003
Report Supplied By USDA

NATIONAL FEEDER & STOCKER CATTLE SUMMARY - Week Ending Sept. 26 — Total Receipts: 498,900; last week 421,700; last year 341,700. Direct: 85,100; last week 58,300; last year 64,900. Video/Internet: 74,700; last week 41,400; last year 3,900. Auctions: 339,100, last week 322,000; last year 272,900. This week's auction volume included 32 percent over 600 lb and 44 percent heifers.

Compared to last week, yearling feeder cattle sold steady to firm Demand continues to be very good, but buyers are becoming price cautious and are sacrificing numbers to stay within the boundaries of their orders.

Feedlots sold cattle steady to 1 00 lower this week as packers reduced chain speeds and showed limited interest in buying under finished cattle. The Choice-Select spread is nearly 35 00 and inventories of Select boxes are starting to back up Demand remains outstanding for Choice, but supplies are extremely limited We are currently teetering on record prices for feeder cattle, slaughter cattle, and dressed beef The chance of holding these levels looks very good with positive fundamental factors, but the market seems to have run out of steam for the time being.

Slaughter cow prices (which have also been at record highs) were sharply lower this week. The National Milk Producers Foundation unleashed a dairy cow buyout program to reduce milk production. Cooperatives Working Together (CWT) is projected to cull 33,000 cows by the end of October. Although this is largely boneless beef, a few retail cuts will be broken out and the program will definitely weigh on the fed cattle market.

Thin-weaned calves and large strings of fancy calves in the mountain states sold steady to 3 00 higher, but this week's calf market was dominated by un-weaned, fleshy new-crops and prices for these types were steady to 4.00 lower. Southeastern markets suffered the full decline in calf prices as winter wheat interests failed to hold the market. Plains wheat farmers are either too busy planting their crop or too busy doctoring the calves that they have already bought. Midwestern farmers have yet to enter the market also, as they are in the full swing of corn harvest. Producers who have calves to sell are better off spending the next few weeks weaning and vaccinating their calves, and waiting for the wheat crop to be put in the ground and the corn crop to be put in the bin

Cooperatives Deliver Power

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Today's rural electric cooperatives are involved in more than just distributing affordable, reliable electricity to their owner-members. Most are involved in political action to assure there is a strong voice in the halls of government for rural areas.

Many electric cooperatives are involved in a variety of community and economic development initiatives, including improving fire protection in rural areas, support for local schools, and providing low cost financing for civic and community organizations.

All of these efforts are seen as integral parts of providing modern electric service and are necessary for advancing cooperative business principles.

Electric cooperative members, directors, and employees recognize that the rural electric program was born in politics and can die in politics. Maintaining a strong, grassroots role in the political process is critical to the long-term success of electric cooperatives.

Helping offset the high cost of political campaigns for candidates who back rural electrification is the Action Committee for Rural Electrification (ACRE), the non-partisan political arm of electric cooperatives.

ACRE members — which includes cooperative board directors, managers, employees, their spouses and members — routinely write letters and visit legislators in district offices to voice concerns in person. They also receive information on important electric cooperative issues through political education workshops and publications.

Cooperative presidents and CEOs, directors and employees stay on top of critical issues affeting the electric cooperative program and improve their working skills through continuing education. Each year, co-op officials and employees attend a series of training courses to further their knowledge and skills.

The safety and well being of cooperative employees, consumer-members and the general public is an ongoing task. By participating in risk management activities sponsoring by the Pennsylvania Rural Electric Association (PREA), employees of Pennsylvania and New Jersey electric cooperatives can learn how to avoid injury on the job. PREA provides field surveys and safety audits of cooperative facilities, plus hands-on training for line workers.

One of the most successful educational endeavors for electric cooperatives is the annual Rural Electric Youth Tour. Since 1964, hundreds of high school juniors from cooperative served households in Pennsylvania have attended this weeklong excursion to Washington, D.C., visiting historical sites, meeting with congressional officials and learning about rural electrification in general.

By their very nature, electric cooperatives are integral parts of the communities they serve. With more than 60 years of experience in providing affordable and reliable electric service, cooperatives are a ready-made delivery system for boosting rural economic growth.

As a result, cooperatives aggressively work to attract new businesses to rural areas and help existing enterprises expand. In addition, cooperatives undertake projects that improve rural quality of life — cornerstones to economic development and job creation.

Cooperatives work with their state and national trade associations in developing comprehensive local development strategies and seek out states and federal economic development assistance, such as zero-interest loans for businesses. These associations have assisted local cooperatives in establishing nationally acclaimed distance learning and telemedicine networks — links that allow rural schools and hospitals to access information and specialized available only in urban areas.

The economic development efforts of cooperatives are an extension of the rural electrification program's original goal — to provide a quality of life for all citizens, no matter where they may live.

The flagship of cooperative member education and communications efforts is Penn Lines, which first rolled off the presses October 1966. The magazine was first used to rally support from cooperative consumers during the long battle for passage of territorial integrity legislation.

Today, Penn Lines provides readers with cutting-edge analysis on how major issues of our time — such as health care, environmental concerns; education and demographic trends — affect Pennsylvania's rural communities. These main features are packaged with articles on electrical use and safety information, news and commentary, legislative matters affecting rural electrification as well as ever-popular cooking, classifieds, and reader photos columns.

The most important part of the magazine however is found right in the middle — each electric cooperative's local news page section. Here, cooperative consumers can learn about activities taking place at their local cooperative.

Since its first issue, Penn Lines has allowed cooperative consumers to express their voice — as owners and members of electric distribution system — in an informed manner.

Pennsylvania's electric cooperatives — as well as all electric utilities in the state — entered a new world on Dec. 3, 1996, when Governor Tom Ridge signed the Electricity Generation Customer Choice and Competition Act (Act 138). Act 138 lets consumers choose their electricity supplier — essentially shop for power.

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The 2003 Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) opened with the announcement of the newest inductee into the Pennsylvania Livestock Association's (PLA's) Hall of Fame here in the Small Arena of the Farm Show Complex.

This year's inductee maintains an active role in Pennsylvania's Livestock Industry — Michael Firestine of Womelsdorf.

Firestine is a senior vice president and senior agriculture lending officer at Fulton Bank/ Lebanon Valley Farmer's Bank. In addition to his work in agribusiness, Firestine and his wife Martene and daughters Morgan and Margeaux reside on their farm, MAP Farm, where they raise registered Hereford and Polled Hereford cattle.

In his acceptance speech, this award represents another high in what has been a roller-coaster year for the Firestine family.

"The year 2003 has been an up and down, roller-coaster kind of year for me," said Firestine. "This is one of the most prestigious awards I have ever received. I hope I am worthy of it."

Firestine quickly recapped his elation in January as his daughter, Margeaux, was selected as the 2003 National Hereford Queen — to challenges facing his family after they lost their house in a fire in May — to receiving this honor.

"But you know what, maybe that was a blessing also," said Firestine in regards to the fire. "Because I found out I had a lot of friends, a lot of friends that helped me through that ordeal."

Agriculture Secretary Dennis Wolff was also on hand for the opening ceremonies, welcoming the exhibitors to the Farm Show Complex.

PLA presented youth awards to Hannah Etzler of Beavertown, Andrew Stein of Red Lion, Jill Gevin of Cochranton, and Nathan Tice of Lebanon.

Morgan Firestine, Pennsylvania Beef Ambassador, delivered a presentation recognizing this year's feature species, beef, with the assistance of several breed queens.

Mike Firestine, far right — joined by his family, Martene, Morgan, and Margeaux — was recognized as the 2003 PLA Hall of Fame Award winner. Photos by Charlene Shupp

Tasty High Energy Grasses Increase My Appetite!

Dandie says...

Perun Festulolium

No-Till Perun into Thin Alfafa and get a High Energy Grass/Alfalfa Mix

PERUN Festulolium

A 3 year High Energy Grass- Perun Festulolium is a very impressive 3-year crop variety for short rotations and extending the stand life of newly planted, slightly thinning alfalfa stands. The 3 year yield of Perun has been quite impressive. Perun is similar to italian ryegrass in quality, but less ready in the summer soil has some heat tol., Winterhardiness is excellent. We are not seeing any winter kill at all. Early spring Perun has been the highest yielder in our plots in New York. Perun was entered in the 2001 planting of Cornell University ryegrass trials and it yielded over 6.85 tons of dry matter in 2002. This was 21% higher than the top perennial ryegrass.

HAKARI Alaska Brome

Fast Start & 2-3 yr High Yields - A tall broadleafed easy-to-dry grass that has excellent energy levels. Great for thickening thin alfalfa fields that you wish to harvest as dry hay. Hakari's energy level is close to ryegrass, but is more productive in dry weather. To maintain stand, do not cut shorter than three inches.

DAIRY PLUS Grazing Mixture

Our most palatable grazing mix - Your cows will milk well on this combination of Tivoli and Mara Perennial Ryegrass, Barliza Timothy, and premium clovers. Best adapted to moist fertile soils.

DAIRYMASTER Grazing Mixture

For slightly abused pastures - This Barenbrug mixture is great for dry cows and heifers too! A mix of Barolex or Bariane soft leafted tall fescue, Mara perennial ryegrass, Barfest festulolium or Batura meadow fescue and Alice white clover.

Clinic's Event Draws Thousands At 13th Annual Auction

MICHELLE KUNJAPPU
Sections Staff

LEOLA (Lancaster Co.) — Again this year donated quilts, food, and furniture combined to draw thousands to a benefit auction now in its 13th year.

The event, which benefits The Clinic for Special Children, Strasburg, is one of three benefit auctions for the clinic. An auction in Shippensburg in July and Morrison Cove in early September preceded the largest auction conducted recently at the Leola Produce Auction, Leola.

The Leola event is the largest of the three auctions. The other two auctions were created for people who wanted to "support the clinic, but not drive all the way to Lancaster," said Caroline Morton, executive director of the clinic.

The Shippensburg auction, conducted July 19, included a spring wagon made specifically for the event and 22 quilts.

Auction offerings included household decorative items, furniture, quilts, crafts, and food.

More than 80 quilts were donated from all over the county. "Many of them were made by friends or relatives of patients of the clinic," said Morton. Most of the quilts were from Amish and Mennonite communities in the Lancaster County area, however groups in other counties donated their handiwork, as well.

Besides individual contributors, "sewing circles and church groups" were also suppliers of quilts. The highest-selling quilt of the day, featuring the postage-stamp design, brought $925.

In addition to quilts, funds may come from other areas.

"Food is also a large portion," said Morton, who pointed out that last year volunteers sold 20,000 doughnuts.

For example homemade lemonade, soft pretzels, chicken barb-que, pizza, strawberry pies, and ice cream churned on the premises has proven to be popular with auction-goers.

Locally-made furniture has also become a draw for buyers. Outdoor furniture — such as a gazebo, sheds or playhouses — included a scale replica of an Amish schoolhouse which was complete with a bell.

Swingsets, an Amish buggy, a two-seater open carriage, and pony and wagon were a few of the wares sold outdoors.

"All proceeds go directly to support the clinic," said Morton.

Last year more than 6,000 attended the event, and by the end of the day at this year's auction, more than 1,300 buyer numbers were handed out.

The event is organized by a committee comprised of a dozen Amish and Mennonite couples, according to Morton. Event organizers may call on businesses, besides members of the community, for donations.

"It is just absolutely amazing how much is donated every year," she said. "It's overwhelming to us how much always turns up."

Labor is also donated. "We have some volunteers that return year after year after year," said Morton.

Last year, for example, 19 auctioneers donated their time.

The 2001 auction also featured 4,000 donated items that included 16 sheds. Auction-goers ate 600 pounds of potato chips, 4,000 subs, and 3,500 soft pretzels and washed it all down with 2,500 cups of lemonade and 769 cups of rhubarb fruit drink.

Next year's auction will take place on Saturday, September 28.

The clinic, a non-profit diagnostic and medical care service for children with inherited disorders, depends on the auctions.

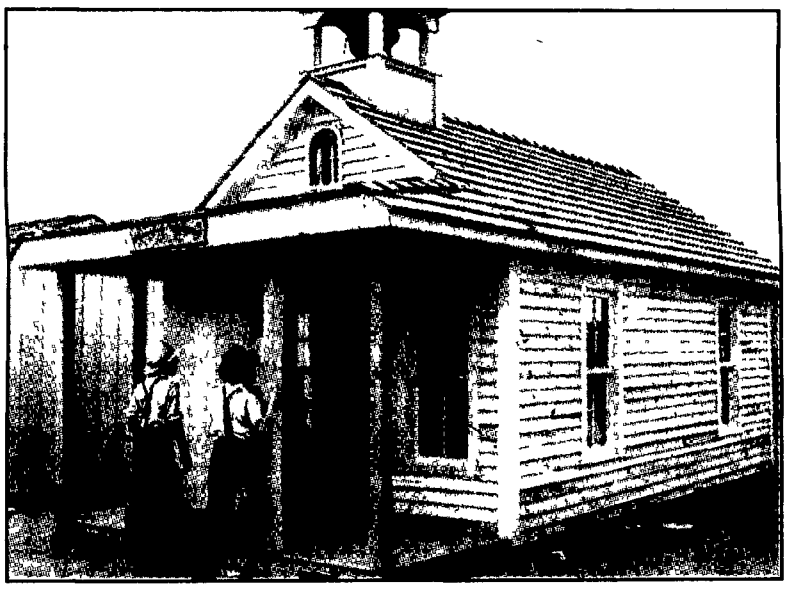
'The auctions are significant contributors to our operating costs," accounting for one-third of its annual operating budget, according to Morton. Besides the auction, the clinic is also funded through fees for services and private contributions. Because of the community's support each year via the auctions, the clinic can provide services at a low cost for families.

The facility has a total caseload of about 500. For more information, the website is located at www.clinicforspecialchildren.org.

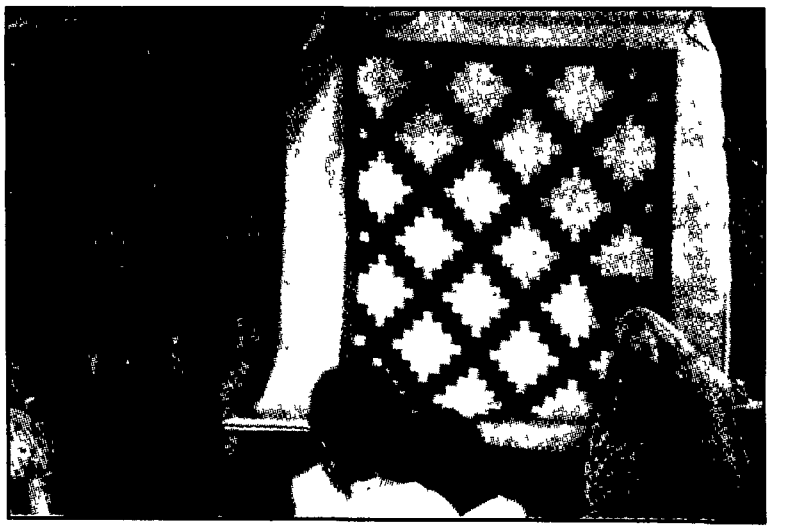
Amidst the busyness of the auction, the horses quietly dozed in the sunshine.

Pounds of potatoes plus a little lard, a little salt, and a lot of laughter equal crowd-pleasing homemade potato chips. This Strasburg-based business, Stoltzfus Potato Chips, keeps employees busy from September to Christmas making potato chips to sell for customer orders. Volunteers worked to make chips to sell during the auction, with proceeds going to the clinic.

Volunteer auctioneers sold more than 80 quilts during the event.



The to-scale schoolhouse was also built and then donated by community members.



Who would like to start the bid for this quilt?

Items such as this gazebo were built by community members and then donated to the auction. The auction accounts for one-third of the annual operating budget.

In addition to quilts and wallhangings such as the one pictured, auctioned items included home decorating items, furniture, food, and lawn furniture.

On Being a Farm Wife

(and other hazards)

Joyce Bupp

Chickens are "hot" these days.

It's become somewhat "chic" (no pun intended) to have your own small flock of backyard chickens, even in suburbia. Having neighbors similarly intrigued by early morning, rooster wakeups are a genuine asset for maintaining backyard flocks of chickens.

"How badly do you want some chickens?"

That was the question I posed to our daughter recently, as we finished up the barn chores on a weekend morning.

Now, this chicken idea was not something I had just pulled out of the air. Their family had been talking for several weeks about acquiring some baby chickens. Justification included fresh egg use, elimination of numerous insects and weed seeds by the endless appetite of a small, backyard flock, and simply because the grandkids wanted some. Their rural farmstead home is an ideal setting, anyway.

Her reply was instant and enthusiastic just the evening before, the subject had come up again among the family.

"One of those contrary old red hens has one tiny black chick up in the barn," I explained. "Do you want it before the cats get it?"

Her affirmative enthusiasm sent us headed for the upper part of the old bank barn, sturdy cardboard box in hand. Catching would be a team effort, with me nabbing the hen with a feed bag, while my teammate grabbed the teeny-tiny chick.

Amidst ear-splitting squawking, the hen frantically scaled the side of the hay bales, while the chick was easily plucked from loose bits of hay at the base. The defensive hen, emitting loud chicken curses the whole way, sailed at my head and out over, landing behind a feed cart nearby. (If I keep tangling with feathered friends, a football helmet and face guard are gonna' be added to my barn gear.)

We tilted the box over, so the hen could see and hear the chick, and hopefully get close enough to catch inside. Yeah. Right.

As we crept closer, Mother Hen sailed overhead again and landed in a more inaccessible part of the barn, still screaming at the top of her lungs. Meanwhile, just feet away, we found her nest of several more eggs. One was partly cracked open. And moving.

My teammate scooped the remaining eggs, including the live one, into the box and dashed toward the house. The only closely-suitable warming light available on such short notice was one of those "bendable" desk lamps, a fixture to read the mail at the kitchen table. With the cardboard box set on a kitchen chair and the light bent at a sharp angle down into the box, but well away from the sides, the straw-lined interior felt snugly warm.

In a short time, the hatching chick popped the sides of the cracked egg. And, in an hour, it was dry and snuggled into a corner with the first. A soft, old rag rolled together loosely simulated the presence of a mother and gave the pair of teeny balls of black fluff some security cover.

Mother Hen? Well, we'd deal with her later.

Finishing up calf feeding at dusk, I checked the barn to see if she had roosted anywhere within handy catching distance. She had. Taking note of the scrappy rooster perched by her side, I backed off.

After dark, we returned, the future flock owners shining truck lights toward the back of the barn roost. Feed bag in hand, I crept toward the perch and snagged the sleeping chicken.

Such a squawking from such a small bunch of feathers! Tucking her into the sturdy feed bag only intensified her screeching.

In the dark of the porch, we slipped the protesting hen into the box. In an instant attitude change, motherly clucking sounds quieted the peeping within the cardboard confines. By the next evening, the trio was comfortably at home in a snug straw bale shelter in their big old barn.

Now, if we can snag the rooster for a family reunion, that'll really be something to crow about.

Open Gate Farm Tour In Northampton County

NAZARETH (Northampton Co.) — The Northampton Co. Cooperative Extension Association is sponsoring an Open Gate Farm Tour at 16 locations Sunday, Oct. 5 from 1 p.m.-5 p.m.

The purpose of the tours is to showcase the county's varied agricultural enterprises where the public may learn about all kinds of livestock and crops.

In addition to produce and prepared food items, they will be able to purchase items for fall decorations, such as gourds, mums, Indian corn, and pumpkins. Plus there will be hayrides to the pumpkin patches, wine tasting, a petting zoo, and corn mazes.

For a list of the 16 locations and a map, contact the extension office at (610) 746-1970.

Holiday Programs Scheduled By Berks County Extension

LEESPORT (Berks Co.) — The Penn State Cooperative Extension/Berks County holiday programs have been scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 4, and Wednesday, Nov. 5, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. They will be conducted at the Easy Does It, Community Recovery Center, 1300 Hilltop Road, 3/10 mile from County Welfare Road.

The holiday programs will feature American traditions, holiday etiquette, easy hors d'oeuvres, gift ideas, floral arrangements, and suggestions for home decorating.

Registrations are required and will be accepted on a first dollars received basis. The cost is $12.00 for each day and include lunch. The quota is 375 persons for each day. There will be no admission without a ticket. Tickets will be mailed three weeks before the event.

A check payable to Berks Co. Ext. Spec. Acct. and a stamped, self-addressed envelope should be sent with the reservation for the day preferred.

Reservations for the Tuesday program should be sent to Janice Dewald, 1050 Rick Road, Reading, Pa 19605.

Reservations for Wednesday should be sent to Jean Horning, 32 Mill Road, Hamburg, PA 19526.

No reservations will be accepted at the extension office.

Lebanon County Extension Schedules Holiday Programs

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — Lebanon County Cooperative Extension's holiday program committee has announced the "Light Up The Holidays" programs will be conducted Wednesday and Thursday, November 5 and 6, at the Lebanon Valley Agricultural Center.

The day programs, which are the same each day, are scheduled from 8:45 a.m.-2:30 p.m. The evening program will run from 6:20 p.m.-8:30 p.m both days and consist of the entire program divided into two sessions.

Attendance is limited to 450 people per session. Reservations will be on a first come, first served basis and must include a self-addressed, stamped envelope so that tickets and map to the expo grounds may be sent. A registration fee of $6.00 will cover program costs and lunch will be available for $5.00 or participants can bring a bagged lunch or go off premises.

The program sessions are "Jazzing Up Your Holiday Feast with Exotic Fruits and Vegetables' by Bill Scepansky, corporate chef at Kegel's Produce; "Brighten and Lighten Your Home For the Holidays" presented by Jane Yocum, master gardener, and Ginger Pryor, extension horiculturist; "Quick and Easy Ways to Holiday Decorating" by Jennifer Stout of Royer's Flowers; and "Down Memory Lane" with Storyteller Doris Gates, who will humorously relate stories of life in the early 1900's.

There will be exhibits and demonstrations by various persons, businesses and organizations throughout the two days. For registration or more information, contact the Lebanon Co. extension office at (717) 270-4391.

Ideas For Increasing Fiber Intake

Fiber is found in fruits, vegetables, grains, nuts, seeds, dried beans, split peas, and lentils. It is the part of plants that the body cannot digest easily. Fiber includes plant cell walls (cellulose) and other substances, such as pectin and guns. There is no dietary fiber in meat or dairy products.

We need to eat fiber for good health. A high-fiber diet may lower the risks for certain cancers, heart disease, and even obesity. Most Americans' diets contain, on the average, about 10 grams of fiber. Try to choose foods that add up to 20-30 grams of fiber per day.

Remember that a diet too high in fiber (more than 35 grams per day) is not recommended. As is true of other nutrients, some fiber is needed — but too much can unbalance your diet.

Adding Fiber

There are many ways to add fiber to your diet:

- Add sliced fresh fruit to cereal, yogurt, or cottage cheese. Use fresh fruit slices instead of jelly on peanut butter sandwiches.
- Use whole wheat or rye bread in place of white bread. Choose whole grain crackers in place of saltines or snack crackers.
- Use fresh fruit and vegetables every day. Instead of potato chips, try raw broccoli, cauliflower, carrots, and green pepper with dips. Fresh fruit in season is a great snack or dessert.
- Use more beans and peas in meals. Try split pea or lentil soup, brown rice and beans, or chili. Use cooked dry beans or canned beans in salads and casseroles.
- Use whole wheat flour in place of all or part of the white flour in recipes.
- Choose whole grain cereals for breakfast in place of refined, sugary cereals.
- Eat potatoes with the skin.
- When you cook vegetables, steam or stir fry until they are tender but still crisp.
- Use sunflower seeds, sesame seeds, or wheat germ for toppings on casseroles, or add them to baked goods like quick breads and cookies. Use them when you make meatloaf, and use rolled oats in place of bread crumbs.

BANANA BREAD

½ cup sugar
½ cup egg substitute
2 cups mashed bananas (about 5)
2 cups whole wheat pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon

With mixer, beat together sugar, eggs, and bananas. Add dry ingredients; mix well. Pour into loaf pan sprayed with cooking spray. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Makes 16 slices.

SIMPLE CHICKEN PASTA SALAD

4 ounces cooked pasta twists or bows
1 6-ounce boneless chicken breast, poached, cooked, and cubed, or 1 cup cubed cooked chicken
1 10-ounce frozen package chopped broccoli, thawed and drained, or 1 cup chopped fresh broccoli
½ cup frozen peas, thawed
1 16-ounce can stewed tomatoes
1 teaspoon Italian blend herbs
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese

Combine all ingredients in salad bowl; cover and chill for 20 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

ONE-DISH MEAL

⅓ pound lean ground beef
½ cup canned or fresh tomatoes, diced
¼ cup rice (uncooked)
⅓ cup water
Pepper to taste
1 cup cooked split peas or frozen thawed green peas

Put ground beef in a pan and cook over medium heat until browned. Drain off fat. Add tomatoes, rice, water, and pepper. Cover and boil gently about 25 minutes or until rice is tender. Add split peas. Heat moderately until hot. Makes 2 servings.

EASY BROWN RICE AND BEANS

4 tablespoons brown rice
¾ cup water
7-ounce can stewed tomatoes
⅓ cup chopped celery (1 stalk)
⅓ cup chopped onions (½ medium onion)
½ cup chopped green pepper (½ medium)
7-ounce can red kidney beans (or ½ 14-ounce can)
Pinch of garlic powder
2 drops hot sauce
Dash of pepper

Cook rice in water until water is absorbed. In skillet cook chopped celery, onion, and green peppers slowly over low heat about 10 minutes. Add drained canned beans, stewed tomatoes, and seasoning. Bring to a boil, and then simmer uncovered about 10 minutes. Add cooked rice and mix. Makes 2-3 servings.

Look for creative ways to add fiber to your diet. Apples sprinkled with whole grain cereal and nuts, and replacing part of white flour with whole wheat flour in baking breads, muffins, and coffee cakes are some ideas.

Featured Recipe

We need to eat fiber for good health. It is reported that a high fiber diet lowers the risk of certain cancers, heart disease, and obesity.

Unfortunately, most American diets contain an average of 10 grams of fiber compared to the recommended 20-30 grams of fiber per day.

Take a look at the many recipes on this page to find ways to incorporate more fiber in your daily diet.

Here's a recipe that uses autumn's abundance of apples. One apple with peel contains three grams of fiber. Fresh fruit and raw vegetables make great snacks to help boost fiber intake.

Remember to drink plenty of water. If you greatly increase your fiber intake without drinking at least eight glasses of water daily, you can compound constipation problems.

CRUNCHY APPLE MAPLE CRISP

4 large apples, cored, peeled and thinly sliced (4 cups)
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, divided
1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar
1½ cup flour
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups Post Selects Maple Pecan Crunch Cereal

Toss apples with 2 tablespoons brown sugar and 1¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Spoon into 9-inch pie plate or quiche dish.

Mix 1½ cup brown sugar, flour and remaining 1¼ teaspoon cinnamon in large bowl. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in cereal. Sprinkle over apple mixture.

Bake at 375F for 30 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings. Bake: 30 minutes.

APRICOT RICE

Cook ¼ cup long-grain rice with 1½ cups water till tender; drain. Drain one 8¾-ounce can apricot halves, saving 3 tablespoons syrup. Combine syrup, cooked rice, and 2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate. Spoon into 2-cup baking dish; top with apricots and bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes 2 servings.

YUMMY YAMS

3 medium yams
1 cup dried prunes (soaked, drained)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons margarine
2 tablespoons fruit juice (orange, apple, etc.)
Pinch of mace, pinch of ginger
½ teaspoon salt

The Barner's 52nd Annual Apple Butter Boil will be held on October 11 2003 in the church grove outside of Liverpool

The tradition of boiling apple butter started in 1951 when the church needed funds to help pay expenses Today fifty-two years later the congregation still boils only for a different reason All the profits are given to charity

If you ask the members of the congregation what is the reason you personally help with the boil? You ll get many different reasons The responses are as follows Tradition I grew up doing this and want to pass it down to my children. It s the fellowship There is plenty of time to catch up with neighbors and friends when you re stirring a kettle of apple butter Whatever the reason the congregation pulls together with the community to make apple butter the second Saturday of October each year

There s plenty of activities on the grounds to see and do A pot pie dinner is served in the dining room includes chicken or beef pot pie peas corn, cole slaw, bread and, of course, apple butter The meal cost is $6 50 for adults, $4 00 for children Dessert is extra For those who would like a lighter meal, there s an eating stand in the grove They sell chicken corn or ham bean soup, bar-b ques and hot dogs Homemade pies and ice cream are also available

A craft stand is located in the grove You can find wood crafts stain glass baked goods and too many items to mention

A member of the congregation wrote a recipe for the apple butter which describes the event best

Take one small church congregation add tons of apples cider and anticipation Place in copper kettles and boil to perfection Add cinnamon sugar and lots of love faith and help from God above Mix together with laughter tears and toil and you ve got an apple butter boil Profits for the needs are our goals but satisfaction fills our souls For 52 years we ve done our share and we will keep on cooking so you know we care"

Directions: To Barner s Church to be a part of this wonderful recipe are as follows Take Route 17 off of Routes 11 & 15 at Liverpool turn right onto Route 235 Turn right onto Barner s Church Road

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a self-addressed stamped envelope. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible. Check your recipe to make sure you copy the right amounts and complete instructions for making the recipe. Sometimes we receive numerous answers to the same request, but cannot print each one.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address. You may also e-mail questions and answers to LGOOD.EPH@LNPNEWS.COM

ANSWER — Jenna Burns, Telford, is hoping to find a recipe for "Poor Man's Fruit Cake," which was a relative's recipe that was lost. The only thing that she knows about it is that it has boiled white raisins and was baked in a tube pan.

QUESTION — R. Emerson, Gordonville, wants to know where to buy a black diamond watermelon.

QUESTION — Mrs. Simon Yoder, Garrett, requests a recipe for pickled green tomatoes with dill.

QUESTION — Joane Merkel writes that her husband wants a recipe to make elderberry wine.

QUESTION — Norma Breininger, New Tripoli, wants a recipe to make wet walnuts similar to those used in making ice cream sundaes.

QUESTION — Pat Elligson-Millers, Md., Is looking for a recipe for cooked cabbage slaw in which the cabbage is chopped, cooked, drained, and tossed in a creamy yellow cooked sweet and sour dressing.

QUESTION — A Lancaster County reader wants recipes for cream of mushroom soup that tastes like Campbell's condensed mushroom soup.

QUESTION — Rita Oshman, Bloomsburg, would like the recipe for canned tomato juice cocktail that was published last year. She lost the recipe.

QUESTION — Luci Essig, Bernville, wants recipes to make trifles.

QUESTION — Peggy Chirico, Canadensis, wants a recipe to make pumpkin butter that tastes like the kind made by Baumans.

QUESTION — Ruth Klingler, Selinsgrove, requests recipes for vegetable breads.

QUESTION — A steady reader wants a recipe for "snails," such as the ones sold at The Pie Shoppe, Laughlintown. "Snails" are cookies made with pie dough and rolled in cinnamon and sugar.

QUESTION — A Fleetwood reader is looking for a recipe to duplicate a cake purchased at the outdoor Farmer's Market, Coudersport. It is a yellow cake with an orange marmalade glaze made in a 4x7-inch pan. The vendor called it a "sitting cake" because once you started eating it, you could not stop until it was gone. "How true," the reader reports.

QUESTION — Margaret Grieff, Sidman, wants a recipe for fillings and dough to make "Hot Pockets."

QUESTION — Brenda Martin, Reinholds, wants a recipe to make soy sauce.

QUESTION — Joyce Shoemaker, Mount Joy, wants a recipe for corn fries that taste like those served at Oregon Dairy Restaurant. She writes that the corn fries look like French fries.

ANSWER — Marion Capp wants recipes using cooked red cabbage. Thanks to Frances Homa, Alpha, N.J., for sending in the following recipe.

Hot Red Cabbage

2 tablespoons salad oil
1 medium head red cabbage (4 cups shredded)
2 medium apples, chopped
2 cups hot water
⅔ cups vinegar
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Heat oil and add remaining ingredients. Cook until the apples are tender. Makes six servings.

ANSWER — Esther Steinhauer, Clayton, Del., was looking for a recipe for quince jam and advice on how to process it. She also would like other good recipes using quinces. Thanks again to Frances Homa, Alpha, N.J., for sending in the recipe.

Quince Honey

2 quinces
2 apples
2 quarts water
3 pounds sugar

Grate quinces and apples and put them in water and sugar. Bring the mixture to a boil and continue boiling the liquid for a half hour. Pour into glass container.

ANSWER — Sylvia King, Lancaster, wanted recipes for cookies in a jar and also bars in a jar. Here are a few ideas from Rachel Glick, New Holland.

Oatmeal Raisin Cookie

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup brown sugar
½ cup sugar
¾ cup raisins
2 cups oatmeal

Combine the first five ingredients in a bowl and set aside. In a quart jar, layer sugar, raisins, and oatmeal, packing well. Top with flour mixture.

To use:
¾ cup butter
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter, add mix, egg, and vanilla, and mix well. Bake at 350 degrees.

White Chocolate Macadamia Nut Cookies

1¼ cups sugar
½ cup chopped macadamia nuts
3 (1.4 ounce) white crunch candy bars, coarsely chopped (press this layer firmly)
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt

Layer ingredients in order, given in a one-quart wide-mouth canning jar. Press each layer firmly in place before adding next ingredient.

Baking instructions: Empty cookie mix into a large mixing bowl. Thoroughly blend mix. Add:
½ cup butter, softened
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix until completely blended. Dough becomes stiff; you will need to finish mixing with your hands to smooth dough.

Shape into walnut-size balls. Place two inches apart on sprayed baking sheets.

Bake at 375 degrees 12 to 14 minutes until tops are very lightly browned. Cool five minutes on baking sheet. Remove cookies to racks to finish cooling. Makes 2½ dozen cookies.

Sand Art Brownies

Layer in quart jar:
⅔ teaspoon salt
½ cup and ⅛ cup flour
⅓ cup cocoa
½ cup flour
⅔ cup brown sugar
⅔ granulated sugar
½ cup chocolate chips
½ cup vanilla chips
½ cup chopped walnuts

Put lid on top. Cover lid with fabric and ribbon. Attach the following note with the jar:

Combine the contents of this jar with:
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅔ cup vegetable oil
3 eggs

Pour batter into greased pan and bake at 350 degrees for 32 to 37 minutes in a 7X11-inch pan or 27-32 minutes in a 9X9-inch pan.

Oatmeal Chip Cookie Mix In A Jar

⅔ cup all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup packed brown sugar
⅓ cup granulated sugar
¾ cup chocolate or butterscotch chips
1½ cups quick or old-fashioned oats
½ cup chopped nuts

Combine flour, baking soda, cinnamon and salt in a small bowl. Place flour mixture in one-quart jar. Layer remaining ingredients in order listed above, pressing firmly after each layer. Seal with lid.

Attach following directions:
½ cup softened butter
1 large egg
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat butter, egg, and vanilla in large mixing bowl until blended. Add cookie mix; mix well. Drop by rounded tablespoons unto ungreased baking sheets. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on baking sheets for 2 minutes; remove to wire rack.

ANSWER — Bea Johnson, Rising Sun, Md., writes that she remembers her grandmother making apple dumplings, but she did not use a whole cored apple. Instead, she peeled and sliced the apples to put them in the crust. Bea would like the recipe. Debbie Reynolds, Wrightsville, sent in a recipe that her husband attests is "the best."

Apple Dumplings

Dough:
2 cups flour
¾ cup butter-flavored vegetable shortening pinch salt
1 teaspoon sugar
5-6 tablespoons water until dough holds together

Roll a portion of the dough on a floured surface. Cut an area to the size dumplings you like.

Core, peel, and slice apples and put as many slices as you like in the center. Dot with butter and sprinkle with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar. Fold up edges and seal with a dab of water. Sprinkle with more cinnamon and sugar. Carefully transfer to a cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for approximately 40 minutes, until crust is golden. Eat warm or cold with vanilla milk.

Vanilla Milk

1 glass milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon sugar

Peel and cut yams into ¼-inch slices, and steam. Arrange layer of yams on bottom of oiled, small baking dish. Dot with margarine. Top with layer of prunes. Alternate layers until all is used. Blend the rest of the ingredients together and pour over potatoes and prunes. Bake at 350 degrees for about 35 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

BEAN BURRITOS

1 16-ounce can pinto beans
1 tablespoon oil
1 package (10) flour tortillas
½ cup chopped onions
1 cup grated American or Longhorn cheese
Chopped lettuce
Salsa or taco sauce

Mash drained beans and heat in oil until hot. Simmer and stir over low heat until thick. Heat flour tortillas until warm and soft. Spread about 2 tablespoons of beans on the tortilla. Add cheese, onions, lettuce, and salsa if desired. Fold one side of the tortilla up about one inch, then roll. Makes 5 servings.

Ida's Notebook

by

Ida Risser

October! And, it is time to dig up all of those bulbs that I planted in the spring. There are so many different kinds of lilies, elephant ears, canna, and gladiola bulbs. Maybe I'll let some of them outside. Last year there were nine different kinds stored in our basement.

We were given several bags of apples to be made into sauce. We had just bought a basket but I think that they will keep for quite a while. My freezers are slowly filling up with food for the winter. Although my lima beans were planted too late to give any beans, there are a few left from last year and we'll use them.

My husband is now driving his car after it sat in the garage for months. He even drove to visit his brother in an adjoining county. When one sees other people's problems, then ours don't seem too bad.

The big storm, that did so much damage in the South, only brought us a little rain and lots of wind. One big cornfield was flattened and will be difficult to pick up. It seems to have been a domino effect and stalks just fell on each other.

Recently some farmers from another county came to visit us and they even brought gifts. We got to know them through the lady's mother. She was a Lancaster Farming reader and she wrote me letters. Now that she has passed away, her daughter keeps up the acquaintance.

Many farm families have similar interests and it is nice to compare our family's activities. Friends are friends even when they are far away.

Flooding Doesn't Stop Fairs At Ephrata, West Lampeter

LOU ANN GOOD
Food And Family Features Editor

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Torrential downpours on the opening day of Ephrata and the West Lampeter Fairs last week created mud and some consternation for the organizers, especially at Ephrata Fair. There Tent City, which houses the agricultural aspect of the fair had water that rose halfway up the tractor tires. But within hours, the water receded, and things progressed as planned.

The weather turned out to be quite sunny and pleasant for most of fair week. From the looks of the kids who attended the two different fairs, the events were a great success.

At left, Katie, 5, and Rein, 3, explore the West Lampeter Fair with their grandparents, Mel and Janette Wenger, East Lampeter.

Annual Apple Butter Boil To Take Place In Liverpool Oct. 11

LIVERPOOL (Perry Co.) — The Barner's 52nd Annual Apple Butter Boil will take place on Oct. 11 in the church grove outside of Liverpool.

The tradition of boiling apple butter started in 1951 when the church needed funds to help pay expenses. Today, 52 years later, the congregation still boils but the profits are given to charity.

Besides the apple butter making, there are other activities on the grounds. A pot pie dinner is served in the dining room. It includes chicken and beef pot pie, peas, corn, cole slaw, bread, and of course, apple butter. The cost is $6.50 for adults, $4 for childen. Dessert is extra.

There will also be stands in the grove selling chicken corn or ham and bean soup, bar-b-ques and hot dogs, homemade pies, and ice cream.

A craft stand will offer for sale wood crafts, stain glass, baked goods, and many other items.

A member of the congregation wrote a recipe for the apple butter which describes the event best:

"Take one small church congregation, add tons of apples, cider, and anticipation. Place in copper kettles and boil to perfection. Add cinnamon, sugar, and lots of love, faith, and help from God above. Mix together with laughter, tears, and toil and you've got an apple butter boil. Profits for the needy are our goals but satisfaction fills our souls. For 52 years we've done our share and we will keep on cooking so you know we care!"

Directions to Barner's Church: Take Route 17 off of Routes 11 and 15 at Liverpool; turn right onto Route 235; turn right onto Barner's Church Road.

Workshop Scheduled On Women's Financial Needs

HONESDALE (Wayne Co.) — Women have unique financial needs. Statistics tell us it is only a matter of time before most (85-90%) women will be on their own financially.

Penn State Cooperative Extension has planned "Women & Money", a financial workshop, Saturday, Oct. 25, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Wayne County Chamber of Commerce Visitors' Center, Commercial Street, Honesdale.

This workshop is designed to provide women with the information to take charge of their financial future. It will focus on three major topics: Financial Basics, Estate Planning, and Investing 101. Each of the sessions has a number of exercises and will also introduce financial terms and skills.

Presenters for the sessions are: Sherry K. Rutherford, Esq., Partner Rutherford and Rutherford, Sally N. Rutherford, Estate Administrator, Rutherford and Rutherford, and Debra A. Bryant, CFP, Penn State Cooperative Extension.

This workshop is designed to encourage women to take the steps necessary to secure their financial futures. Participants must take action (e.g. starting an IRA) to achieve their financial goals.

Cost of the workshop is $15 and covers the cost of lunch, breaks, and all materials. Call the extension office, (570) 253-5970, ext. 239 to register or for more information. "Women and Money" is open to all persons and men may also attend, however, the sessions will be geared specifically to women.

You ask you answer

This column is for readers who have questions but don't know whom to ask for answers.

"You Ask—You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and Answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask—You Answer, Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. Attention: Lou Ann Good.

Or, you may e-mail questions and answers to LGOOD.EPH@LNPNEWS.COM

Please clarify what question you are answering when responding.

Do not send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a reply. If we receive the answer, we will publish it as soon as possible. Please include your phone number because we sometimes need to contact the person to clarify details. We will not publish your phone number unless you request it. However, if your question requires someone to mail items to you, you must include your address or phone number for publishing.

QUESTION — In Williamsville, New York, outside of Buffalo, there is a former gas station/minimart of which Polly E. Mathys, Spring City, Pa. is part owner. She writes: "We are selling the ground, and the building will in all likelihood be torn down. In this building are store-type items such as display shelves, a walk-in cooler with five glass door fronts, and five 6-foot-long chest coolers (you know the kind you reach into in the store to get your Popsicle or whatnot). The buyer of the ground doesn't want them and neither do we. But rather than get a certified refrigerant remover to come in and then trash all this equipment, we're looking for a food bank, a farm, a produce stand, or whoever to come to Williamsville and claim these items. None of this stuff is new, but to our knowledge, it all worked the last time the electricity was on." Call Polly at (610) 495-6185 for more information.

QUESTION — L. T. Burke, Southampton, wants to know where to buy outdoor iron furniture from the 1960s-1970s that is in new or very good condition. He wants straight and rocking chairs.

QUESTION — Naomi King, Lititz, wants to know where to purchase replacement thermos lids with attached spouts to drink from. They are the 2-quart Rubbermaid jugs with screw-on lids.

QUESTION — Betty Jakum, Littlestown, wants to know where to purchase a gasoline-powered rotary lawn mower that cuts 18 inches or less to use for trimming.

QUESTION — Diane Gray, 70 Damascus Rd., Blandon, PA 19510, wants information and bottles from the former Lebanon or Lebanon Valley Dairy.

QUESTION — Marie Hixson, Crystal Spring, wants to know how to grow wild rice. They live on a farm with some wet areas that she believes would be suitable for growing rice. Anyone know where she can find information?

QUESTION — Warren Glidewell, Bloomsburg, wants to know where to find Flemish giant rabbits in a fawn color.

ANSWER — Bea Johnson wanted to know where to find a glass milk bottle from Abbott's Dairy. Thanks to Charles Focht, Carlisle, who wrote that he is an historian and a collector of Abbott's Dairies and would be glad to help her with any questions about Abbotts. Phone: (717) 258-8788.

ANSWER — Jim e-mailed that he wants to know where to get cow manure from a farm. He said he would load it in his pickup and unload in the garden. Thanks to the reader who wrote: "Jim, just drive your pickup to any farm and ask about manure." Editor adds the farm should have livestock.

ANSWER — Mary from West Virginia wanted to know where to purchase the sugar substitute called Brown Sugar Twin. Thanks to the reader who sent an e-mail with the following information she found: Web address: http://www.low-carb.com/info.html. The Low Carb Connoisseur, 1520 East Greenville St., Anderson, SC 29621; phone Monday thru Friday, 8:30 a.m.-6 p.m. EST, (864) 224-2477 or (888) 339-2477; fax orders to (864) 261-7750.

ANSWER —A Quarryville reader wants to know the words to the poem "Thank you Lord, for Dirty Dishes." Many thanks to four readers, who wrote from Lebanon, Port Treverton, Paradise, and New Freedom. Each of theirs began with "Thank God" instead of "Thank you, Lord" but perhaps this is the poem she wanted:

Thank God for dirty dishes
They have a tale to tell
While others may go hungry,
We're eating very well.
With home and health and happiness
We should not want to fuss
For by the stack of evidence
God's been very good to us.

M.Martin wrote: "It's been years since I saw that motto but while I was growing up, my Mom had it hanging in her kitchen where we could see it while washing dishes and I've never forgotten it." Also, thanks to another reader who e-mailed a long poem about dirty dishes and also many other household chores for which we should be thankful.

ANSWER — The reader from Port Treverton also responded to the request from the Quarryville reader for a poem about baby ferns. She sent the following poem:

Baby Ferns

Oh, what shall we do, this long winter through...
The baby ferns cried when the mother fern died.
The wind whistled bleak, the woodland was drear
And on each baby's cheek, there glistened a tear.
When down from the sky, like a flutter of wings,
There came a whole cloud of tiny white things.
They trooped on a heap where the baby ferns lay,
And put them to sleep that bleak winter day.
Tucked under the snow in their little brown hoods,
Not a thing would they know, those babes in the woods.
Till sometime in Spring, when the bobolinks sing,
They will open their eyes to the bluest of skies.

One Mission: Student Success

York County FFA Outstanding Members

Senior students from each of the York County Schools with FFA chapters are eligible to be selected as the outstanding members of their local chapters. Each person selected will receive monetary awards sponsored by the Ed Heindel Appraisal Service.

From those individuals placing first in their chapter, an overall county award winner was selected. The county award recipient is Jeremy Wilson of the Kennard Dale FFA chapter. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wilson, 16402 Bowman School Road, New Freedom. As a part of his FFA experiences he has had projects of swine finishing and practicum skills.

First place winners of other chapters were: Lauren Hawn, daughter of Timothy and Patricia Hawn of 3220 Oakland Road, Dover of the Dover chapter; and Brandy Bankert, daughter of Wayne and Sue Bankert of 5282 Rippling Run Road, Red Lion of the Red Lion Area chapter.

Of the other students representing the Red Lion Area FFA chapter. Kimberly Pomraning, daughter of Myron and Teresa Pomraning of 491 Slab Road, Delta received second place honor for her chapter.

These outstanding students will be completing applications this fall in order to receive the Keystone Degree which is awarded by the PA FFA organization.

Buchanan FFA Team Places First In Dairy Judging

MERCERSBURG (Franklin Co.) — The James Buchanan FFA dairy judging team won first place in the Eastern States Dairy Judging competition at the "Big E" in Springfield, Mass.

They judged five heifer classes consisting of Holsteins, Ayrshires, and Milking Shorthorns, as well as a Holstein cow class. They then gave reasons defending their placings for an Ayrshire yearling class. They also had two sire selections to complete, a pedigree analysis, a dairy knowledge test, and a team activity.

Team members are Aaron Horst, John Fisher, and Meagan Meyers. Aaron Horst placed first in individual judging and Meagan Meyers placed ninth. During their trip, they toured the Eastern States Exposition Center, and fortified their knowledge and exposure to the dairy industry.

Stream Maps
of Pennsylvania, New York, New England, New Jersey, Ohio & Maryland/Delaware

LOST STREAM MAP

The STREAM MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA was completed in 1965 after a thirty-year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor

The map is known as the LOST STREAM MAP to some anglers

Professor Higbee succeeded in creating a map of the highest detail possible a map that shows every stream and lake He painstakingly plotted by hand the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto a 3 by 5 foot map

The map sold extremely well--until it was lost several years later Incredibly, the printer entrusted with the original drawing and printing plates declared bankruptcy, then carelessly hauled Higbee's 30 years of work to a landfill.

The few remaining dog-eared copies became a prized fisherman's possession Professor Higbee was offered $400 for one of his last maps And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Experts told Professor Higbee that reprints were impossible, because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue

Then, in 1991, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true Computers made it possible to reprint the map Howard said, "I never thought I'd live to see this day."

Why every angler and boater needs these maps

It is estimated that 10% of all the anglers catch 90% of the fish Regardless of which group you fall into there's a sure way to up your odds simply try new fishing waters Now with this map you can find hidden streams and lakes

Pennsylvania Ohio New England Maryland & Delaware and New York are loaded with great fishing holes many of them overlooked Thousands of miles of streams rivers and lakes are now easy-to-locate on one map

The 3-foot-by-5-foot Pennsylvania map shows 15,000 miles of streams plus lakes
The 3-foot-by-3-foot Ohio map shows 29 000 miles of streams plus lakes
The 3 1/2-foot-by-4 1/2-foot New York map shows 65 000 miles of streams plus lakes
The 3-foot-by-4-foot New England map shows 36 000 miles of streams plus lakes
The 2 1/2 foot-by-3-foot New Jersey map shows 8 300 miles of streams plus lakes
The 3 1/2-foot-by-2-foot Maryland/Delaware map shows 12 000 miles of streams plus lakes

Professor Higbee's maps are the first and only highly detailed maps of their kind.

Professor Higbee's RAVE REVIEWS

"It is amazingly detailed and names some creeks in the Mohawk Valley that can t even be found on topographic maps "
—John Pitarres, OBSERVER-DISPATCH, Utica

"If you're looking for the most definitive maps ever created depicting every single creek, river, stream, pond and lake then 'Professor Higbee's Stream Maps' are without question the finest "
—Howard Brant, THE NEWARK STAR-LEDGER

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman '
—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown

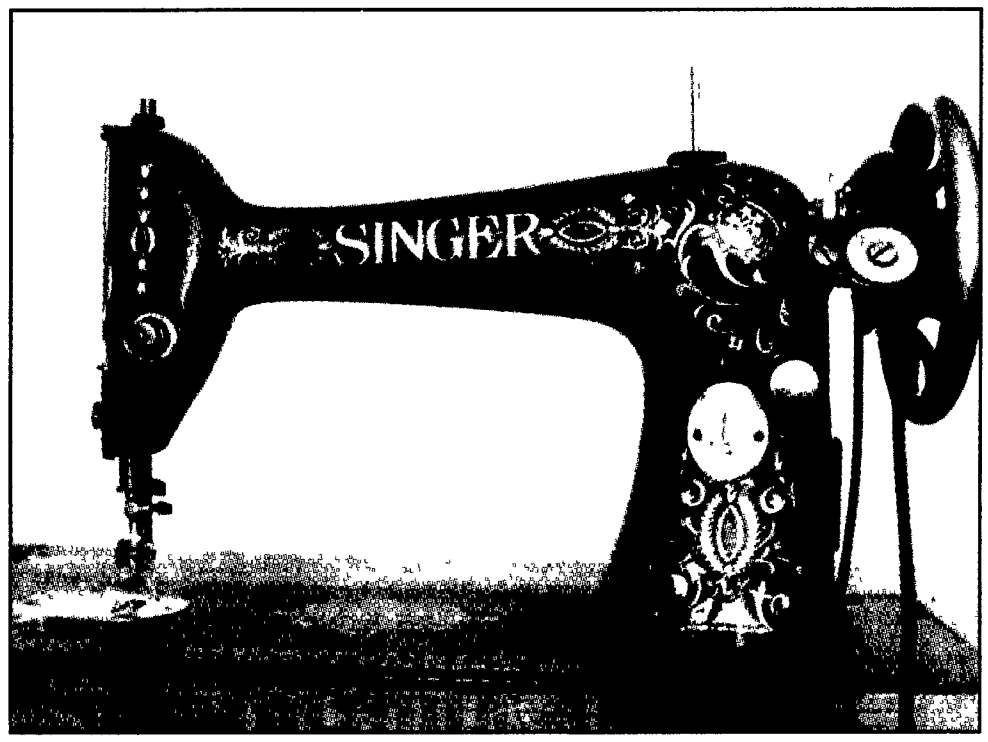
Sewing Machines Find Second Life Under His Hands

Joe Russell has refinished countless sewing machine cabinets during his 15-20 years of work.



Russell's Amish customers replace old sewing machines such as this one with a newer model that works with the treadle and does not need electricity.

MICHELLE KUNJAPPU
Sections Staff

LITITZ (Lancaster Co.)— Because of Joe Russell's efforts, countless sewing machines have made a comeback and are now busily working under the hands of his Amish and Mennonite customers.

Russell has refinished sewing machine cabinets for 15-20 years, giving shine to the wood and enabling rusty metal parts to work once again. Members of Amish and Mennonite communities seek out the sewing machines since the treadles work the machine without electricity.

Russell refinishes the machine so that the old "heads" can be taken out and fitted with newer sewing machines.

Since refinishing the cabinets is a specialty skill performed by few other woodworkers, Russell's work is certainly in demand, however he began the business almost by accident.

"I always did wood work all my life, as a hobby," said Russell, who built most of the couple's furniture after he and his wife, Evelyn, were married.

"Fifteen or 20 years ago an Amish lady who knew I did woodwork brought me a busted up treadle, and that's what got me in the treadle business. I've been in that ever since," he said.

His refinished cabinets have also gone to customers in Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, California, and as far away as Saudi Arabia.

Most of the cabinets were made in the years between 1915-1920. The machines and cabinets, though old, are not hard to find.

"I have little or no trouble getting them, since people will buy them and then call and sell them to me," he said.

Word-of-mouth advertising also sells the machines. The "treadles" go for $150-$400, depending on if the cabinet is plain or ornate, and if it has five or seven drawers. Simply refinishing the cabinet costs $125 for a five-drawer unit.

The refinishing process begins from the ground up.

"I tear it all apart. Every screw, nut, and bolt comes out," he said. Once the cabinet is deconstructed, Russell replaces worn or rotting pieces of wood by making new. Next he strips off the old veneer and replaces it with new veneer, which he stains a medium oak color, since approximately 75 percent of treadle sewing machines are made of oak.

The metal pieces are first sand blasted. "A lot of these machines are left down in a cellar or out in a barn and they're all rusted," said Evelyn. "The wheels don't even turn."

Russell then paints the metal black except for the gold paint which highlights the familiar word "Singer" on the metal work.

The last step of the process is to spray on a coat of lacquer.

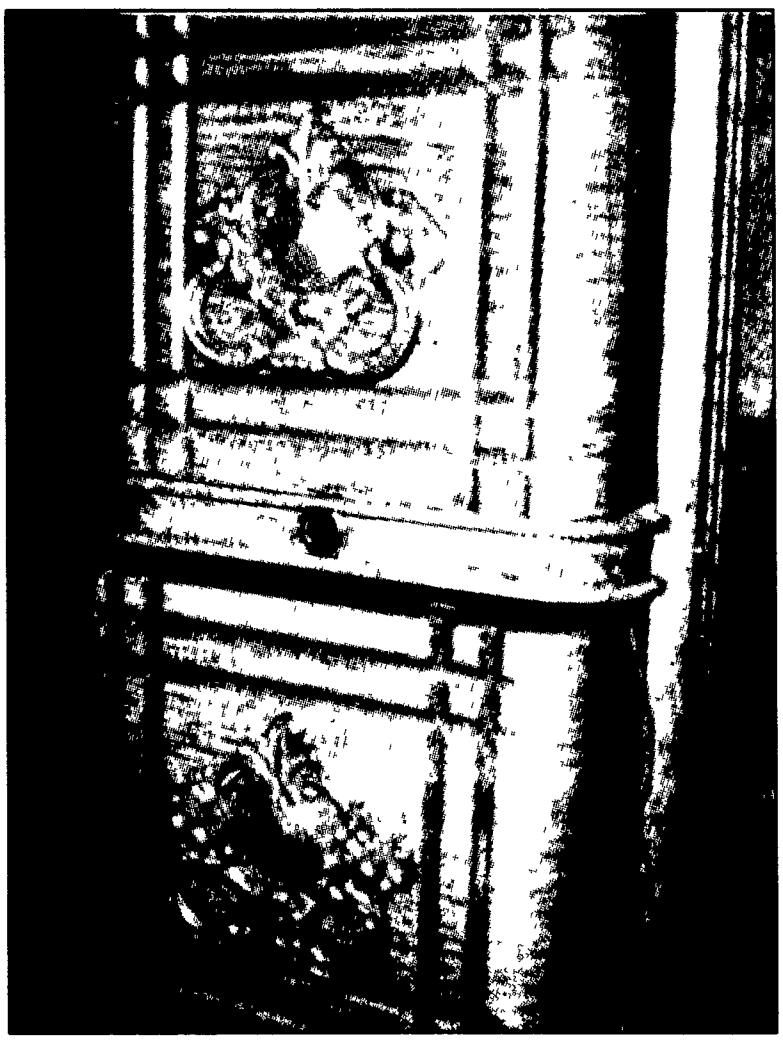
Russell estimates that if he worked eight-hour days that he could get a cabinet done in 2½ to three days. However, since he has retired, he is relaxed about putting in hours at the shop, preferring to balance his time with his wife and working at the antique co-op that he and his wife are a part of. The nearby workshop is a refinished barn on his son's farm.

The work, however, has paid off, since with treadle money he purchased a 1930 Model A Ford, which he enjoys taking out on the road 2-3 times per week.

Russell grew up in Dunellen, New Jersey, then moved to Pennsylvania to allow his son Joseph the opportunity to farm. After Joseph operated a cattle feedlot for a few years, the family moved to Mount Joy to operate a dairy farm. While his son took care of the animals, Russell worked in industrial air conditioning and taught vo-tech in two different schools.

Evelyn is a member of Society 8 of Farm Women.

Besides word-of-mouth, Russell also markets the sewing machines at the Antique Marketplace in Soudersburg.



These brass pulls are original. Most of the cabinets that he finishes were built in the years between 1915-1920.

After sandblasting the metal parts to remove rust, Russell gives them a fresh coat of black paint.

Rococo Revival Furniture Often Carved Masterpieces

For newly rich, mid-century Victorians, when it came to furnishing their huge homes not only were "bigger and better" but ornate carving was a must. The carvings of animals, flowers and fruit were dimensional sculptures adorning drawers, tops, and arms.

When you think of the heavily carved and pierced furniture that defined mid-century cabinetry, the name of John Henry Belter first comes to mind. Rightly so, since he is recognized as the best known American mid-century cabinetmaker. However there were others that are now being recognized for their quality craftsmanship.

Among them Alexander Roux, Charles Baudouine, Francois Seignouret, and Prudent Mallard. When they make a rare auction appearance, prices can zoom into high five figures.

While the Rococo Revival had been fashionable in Europe in the 1820s and 1830s, it didn't become popular in America until about 1845. It was the perfect fit for the gigantic homes being built. The Victorians referred to it as "the antique French style," because it was the new fashion, as "the modern French style." However, it had developed a unique look of its own, combining naturalistic floral, fruit and animal carving with pierced and often laminated wood. However, it kept the characteristic cabriole legs, and S-and C-scrolls from the European rococo.

The wood of choice was rosewood, although walnut was also used.

Rosewood not only had a rich color but beautiful graining that took a high polish that appealed to its' fanciers.

In 1853, at the New York Crystal Palace exhibition, America got it's first look at the carved, often towering masterpieces by French cabinetmakers, among them Alexander Roux.

Always looking for something new and different, trendy Victorians were quick to buy monumental etagere's (whatnot shelving for knick-knacks). A special hit was the tete-a-tete (a love seat made as two chairs, joined and facing in opposite directions).

Roux, a Frenchman, opened his cabinet shop in 1846 in New York. By the 1850s other quality French cabinetmakers immigrated to New York. Some moved on to New Orleans. Two of the most important were Francois Seignouret and Prudent Mallard.

Antique Detective

Seignouret was known for his massive, richly carved Rococo.

Many of the German immigrants who came to New York after the European revolutions of 1848, were skilled cabinetmakers, specializing in ornate carving.

John Henry Belter, who had come from Germany in 1844 not only created the Rococo Revival-style furniture, but received a series of patents utilizing his laminating process. It relieved the often heavy look of the furniture. The wood was first pressed in steam molds to created its curves. Then the ornamental carved work was glued on after the pierced backing was made. However, these techniques were not originated by Belter.

Belter's elaborately carved, laminated rosewood furniture was not only copied by his competitors but shipped from his New York factory to the wealthy and famous around the country. Mary Todd Lincoln, who moved to Chicago after the President's assassination (1865), ordered a rosewood parlor suite, with frames made by Belter.

CLUES: Since these flamboyant rococo pieces were shipped around the country, they can still turn up anywhere. However, because so many craftsmen copied the style, get written authentication before spending too much. The words "attributed to" aren't good enough. Small pieces can still be affordable examples...if you like the look.

Grove, 22 Tannery Road, Dillsburg, PA 17019 or call (717) 432-4782. If no answer, leave a message with your name, address, phone number, the year and make of tractor.

Special Tours Of Pennsylvania German Farm Offered Oct. 11, 25

SCHAEFFERSTOWN (Lebanon Co.) — Learn about the architecture of an early Pennsylvania German farm. Special tours of the historic Alexander Schaeffer Farm will be conducted Saturday afternoons, Oct. 11 and 25 at 1 p.m. and again at 3 p.m.

Best known as the town founder, Alexander Schaeffer purchased the land that makes up the farm and much of the town that bears his name in 1754.

The hour-and-a-half tour includes the farmhouse, garden, and outbuildings. Tours begin at the gift shop building. Admission is $2.50 for adults, $1 child (12-18 years), and children 11 and younger free with an accompanying adult. Discount admission passes to the Historic Schaefferstown other museums can also be purchased.

The farm is a part of Historic Schaefferstown, Incorporated (HSI), a nonprofit educational organization whose mission is the collection, preservation, study and dissemination of the history and folk culture of the Pennsylvania Germans in South Central Pennsylvania, with particular focus on Schaefferstown. The organization disseminates information through educational programs for adults and children, tours of its buildings and collections, festivals and special events, and publication of research and promotional materials. The other museums that Historic Schaefferstown operates are the Brendle Museum and the Gemberling-Rex House.

The Schaeffer Farm is located just south of Schaefferstown's Main Street on Route 501.

For more information, call the HSI office at (717) 949-2244.

GRANTVILLE (Dauphin Co.) — Even though snow still has an icy grip on Pennsylvania producers couldn't help thinking about spring planting and beat scary crop as they gathered recently at the Holiday Inn in Grantville for the 2003 Corn and Soybean Conference.
Top placers in the classes are all related stars on this page.
More than 100 producers and industry representatives attended the event sponsored by the Pennsylvania Corn Growers Association, the Pennsylvania Soybean Board and Penn State Cooperative Extension.

Kyle Henninger, left, won the shelled corn no-till contest with 223.7 bushels per acre. With the win, Henninger will go to the Commodity Classic in Charlotte, N.C. Last year Henninger won first place in both the Pennsylvania and national shelled corn no-till classes. Herman Manbeck, Womelsdorf, had a third in the shelled corn no-till class.

GRANTVILLE (Dauphin Co.) — The recent Pennsylvania Corn and Soybean Conference drew approximately 125 producers and industry representatives to a one-day event conducted here at the Holiday Inn.
The Pennsylvania Corn Growers Association (PCGA) Pennsylvania Soybean Board and Penn State Cooperative Extension sponsored the event.
Contest results are also a highlight of the conference. There were 67 participants in the Five Acre Corn Club contests, according to Greg Roth, corn management research and extension, Penn State.
In the three-year average (2000-2002) classes, awards went to

MOVING OUR INDUSTRY FORWARD WITH PARTNERSHIPS
I do a lot of traveling around the region and the state and I continue to hear many producers and industry folks ask what we need to be doing to move our corn and grain industry ahead in Pennsylvania in these trying times.
I think we are starting to make progress but it's difficult to achieve much by working alone.
Many of us believe that just by working harder each day we can accomplish our goals but I'm finding that by working together in partnerships among industry, universities, producers and government we can achieve things that one group cannot achieve alone.
I've seen numerous examples of this starting to happen in other regions and now starting to happen in our industry here in Pennsylvania as MILLERSTOWN (Perry Co.) — Drivers, by sight and relying on disk marks and foam will be a thing of the past for farmers who opt to use digital technology to guide their field equipment.

Using the traditional foam marker may prove to be challenges, at times, said Calvin Ebby, assistant service manager at Hoober Inc.

Quick Feed Invention Pays Off

It turns out that Bob Dunton's Quick Feed devices first used to harvest storm-twisted corn in Year 2000 are paying off handsomely in the 2001 crop as well. In the current harvest, farmers are finding out that the Quick Feed puts an end to the perennial problem of dry fluff, and in so doing evens out the flow of corn over the cross auger. They make harvesting faster and much safer.

This also means that the corn feeds evenly into the full width of the combine cylinder. It evens out cylinder wear and also ends up with less damaged grain. All of these things also mean less stress and danger to the operator.

Bob Dunton, Topeka, Ill. ran into a real problem in the 2000 harvest. His corn was down so bad that he could not see the rows. He experienced one choke up after another. Especially bad was dry fluff. It would just float above his cross auger and not go into the feeder house.

"I had two 9600 combines tied up, and we were lucky to get 20 to 30 acres a day. There was no way we would be able to finish harvesting in that calendar year at the rate we were going," Dunton said.

Quick Feeds cost $10 per row, plus $10 shipping. Call (309) 597-2319, (309) 256-2865, or (309) 256-2871.

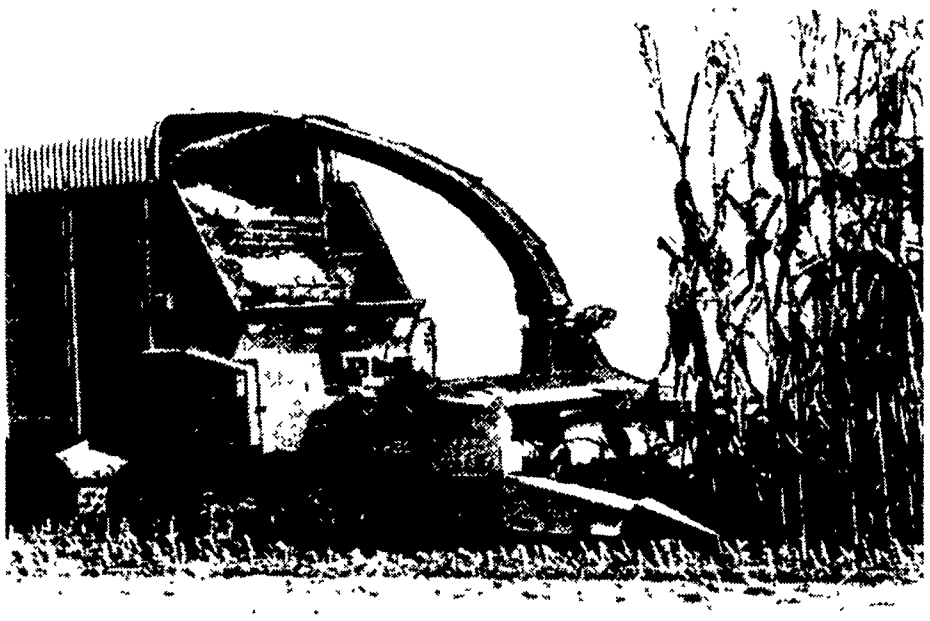
Move mountains of forage

Keeping pace with your harvester and forage wagons can be a challenge...unless you have a New Holland forage blower. The F62B moves mountains of forage - fast!

- High-capacity blower center-fills silos over 100 feet tall
- 37-inch large-capacity hopper; 12-inch feed auger; 60-inch diameter blower fan
- Blows 180 tons per hour of corn silage; 110 tons per hour of haylage

NEW HOLLAND



Unsurpassed control

New Holland builds it - new Fx self-propelled forage harvesters put you in control of Greater Productivity.

As a custom harvester or large dairy operator, you'll appreciate the productivity-boosting performance of the new FX self-propelled forage harvesters from New Holland. The new FX30, FX40 and FX60 forage harvesters are built to help you work faster – in all crop conditions – with added convenience, comfort and control.

Chop and process

Chop and process corn silage in one operation with New Holland's optional onboard CropPro™ crop processor available on Models FP230 and FP240 forage harvesters. CropPro™ shears cobs and stems and cracks and crushes kernels, producing silage that's higher in effective fiber and more digestible for increased milk production. You can easily switch to haylage by removing a single baffle.

Ask us about the CropPro™ crop processor today.

INJECTORS

Have you serviced yours?

Bad Injectors Cause:
- Excessive Fuel Consumption
- Poor Starting
- Loss Of Power
- Misfiring
- Black Smoke
- Overheating

So service them regularly!
As always, injectors are checked free of charge

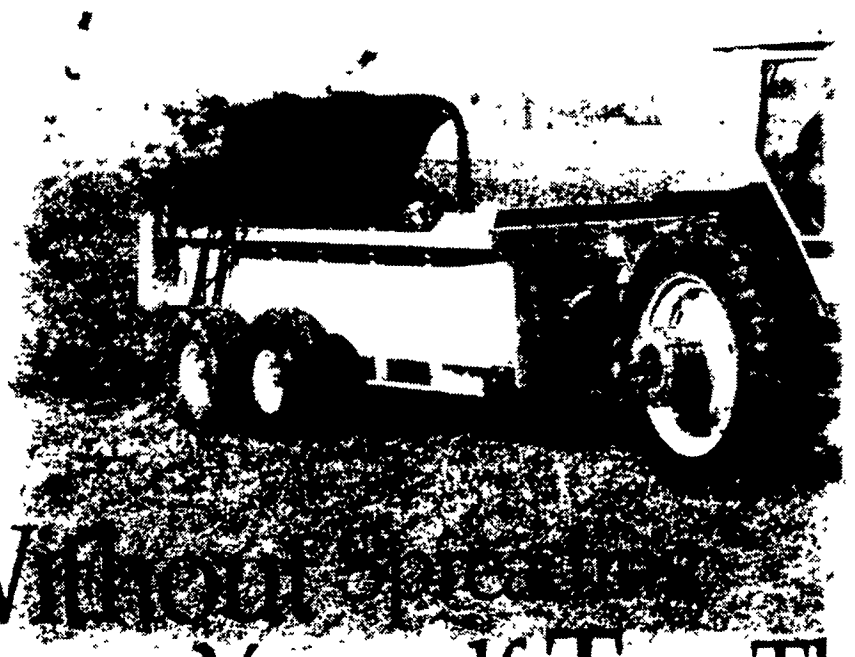
Match A Spreader To Your Needs



Without Spreading Yourself Too Thin

Get Unmatched Flexibility At A Great Price.

With eight sizes to choose from and a wide variety of options, it's easy to see how the New Idea® 3700 Series Spreaders meet the needs of any operation. Their aggressive, main beater paddles are strategically spaced and angled to shred a wide range of material while giving you a consistent spread pattern

Culvert-grade galvanizing over one-piece, copper-bearing steel sides provide a barrier against rust and corrosion And for hauling long distances, the truck-mount option proves to be the safest, most economical way to transport large amounts of material

To see how simple it is to customize your spreading operation, contact your AGCO® New Idea dealer today You'll be surprised how much time and money you'll save with the New Idea 3700 Series Spreaders.

Dump Wagon

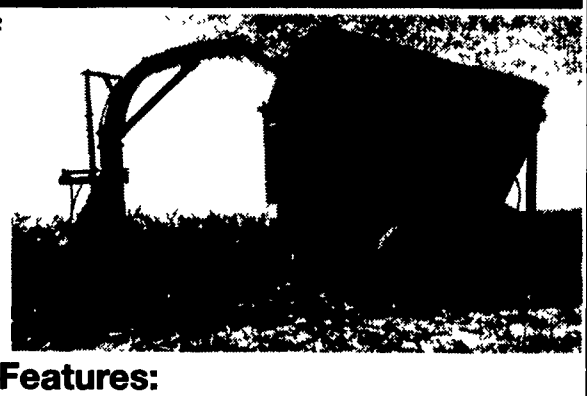
RICHARDTON A SUNFLOWER PRODUCT

Models 8010 8020

Increasing Efficiency of Haying and Forage Operations

Increase your efficiency of haying and forage operations without unhooking conventional wagons or waiting on trucks to return.

Pulling a Richardton wagon will reduce the compaction caused by truck traffic in the fields during a wet year.



8010 & 8020 Dump Wagon Features:

- The wagon with the 1 MINUTE DUMP CYCLE*
- Pull a Sunflower/Richardton dump wagon behind a forage chopper to collect and dump forage and haylage into trucks or other receptacles
- Single axle & auto-steer models available
- Positive action roof opener
- Hydraulic system with a cable assist is designed to unload large loads of up to 20,000 lbs quickly and efficiently, even if the load is not distributed evenly
- Smooth interior box sides
- Reinforced box design
- Patented hydraulic lock cylinders lock the box at dumping clearance height for solid, complete and safe dumping
- The diagonal slide system allows truck drivers close access to the dump wagon and reaches out to put loads in the center of the truck box.

 Dump cycle time depends on hydraulic supply output*

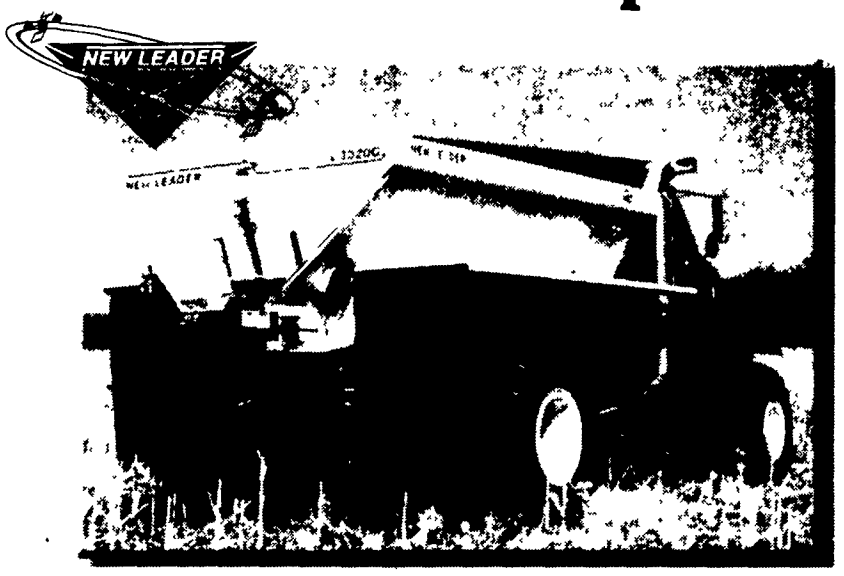
G4 SERIES

Fertilizer and Lime Spreaders



The New Leader G4 Series Spreader can spread more acres per day-- with a wider range of material application rates--than any other granular applicator currently on the market. The new L3020G4 variable rate broadcaster allows you to

- Spread lime with effective swath widths up to 60'.
- Spread fertilizer with effective swath widths up to 90'.

The New Leader L2020G4 is also available.

Take Command Of Your Land

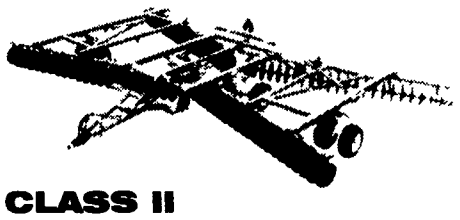
Choose the Krause Disc That's Right for You!

- Krause Corporation continues to lead the Disc Harrow market by taking an agronomic approach to tillage management with their Profit-Till System.
- Taking this agronomic approach allows farmers to choose the disc harrow to match his operation and reach his goals.
- Krause offers disc harrows in 3 agronomic classes to size and incorporate residue, improve soil tilth and provide quicker soil warm-up in the spring – all key factors in maximizing yield potential.

CLASS I

Seed Bed Finishing (Models – 7300 Series, 2200 Series)

- 100-140 Lbs. per Blade
- 22" Blades
- Moderate crop residue management
- High speed tillage/leveling



CLASS II

All-Purpose (Models – 7400 Series, 4995)

- 140-210 Lbs. per Blade
- 22" or 24" Blades
- Primary tillage or seed bed finishing
- Heavy crop residue management

CLASS III

Primary Tillage (Models – 2400 Series)

- 210-250 Lbs. per Blade
- 24" or 26" Blades
- Primary tillage / extreme conditions
- Heavy crop residue management

Hoober offers Krause Disc Harrows from 18' to 34'. Call a Hoober salesman today for all your Krause needs!

DOUBLE-DECK DURABILITY

John Deere's exclusive double-decker design includes a domed top deck that sheds water and grass, preventing rust, and a bottom deck that protects the top deck from stumps and rocks. Put them together and you get a machine that's twice as strong as any other cutter.

HERE'S WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW: IT'S BETTER.

This new threshing system lets you do more, worry less and unload premium quality grain from every tank. It's the innovative Advanced Technology Rotor™ in the new MF 9000 Series Class VI and VII combines. It's packed with advanced features such as 360-degree feeding, computer-designed threshing system and improved cylinder bars–all to improve crop flow through the rotor and do a better job separating grain. Bottom line: increased capacity, improved efficiency, and best of all, a superior grain sample. See your Massey Ferguson Dealer today and check out all the advanced features on the new 9000 Series. That's what you need to do.

GOT DOWN CORN?

"In the fall of 2000 we had about 2,000 acres of down corn. We were harvesting one particular field on a 45° angle across the rows at .5 to .7 mph and making numerous stops to clean the corn head as it would not feed in. After installing the quick feed brackets we were able to go with the rows at 2.5 to 2.75 mph with no feeding problems. The results can truly be amazing!"

- Dramatically Increases Corn Head Efficiency
- Increases Cross Auger Efficiency
- Eliminate Dry Fluff Build Up
- Continuous Even Flow of Materials to Feederhouse
- Can Help to Increase Ground Speed Dramatically in Adverse Conditions Such as Down Corn
- Does Away with Any Need for Rubber Paddles on Cross Auger
- No Need for an Ear Saver Hood as Rubber Paddles are Eliminated and Ears are Not Thrown Out of Head

We are currently making quick feed brackets for J.D. and IH heads but they will work on any brand with minor alterations.

Cost: $10/row plus S&H

All Sizes of New S&S Silos Available

WARNING, ALL SILO OWNERS

Check your silo now for rotten staves. If you have been using your silo for 10 to 15 years for either corn silage or haylage, it is time to SHOTCRETE

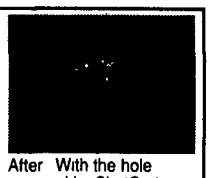
RESURFACES INTERIORS:
- Coats the silo's interior
- Protects feed in storage
- Durable, tough, acid-resistant
- Increase useful life
- Economical

Before The silo's interior with plaster damage and stave exposed

After The surface is reconditioned, and a new, thick, tough surface will protect stored feed

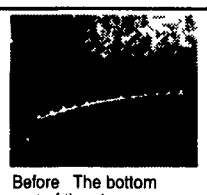
REPAIRS HOLES:
- Repairs even large holes
- Up to twice the strength of the original stave
- Rapid application
- Durable surface

Before A hole is worn completely through the silo wall



After With the hole repaired by ShotCrete and a new surface applied, the silo is ready for years of use

EXTENDS USEFUL LIFE:
- Support for old foundations
- Special repairs can be made... quickly and economically
- Little or no forming needed
- Stronger than the original



Before The bottom part of the staves are completely worn away

After The ShotCrete System repairs and replaces the missing structure

S&S Silo Service Has More than 20 Years Experience Recoating Silos With ShotCrete. Call Us Today For An Estimate

EVERLAST II EVERLAST II EVERLAST II

Metal Roofs Aren't Created Equal

EVERLAST II IS BETTER:

- it is galvanized heavier, like old times.
- it is heat formed, less paint cracks.
- is cut while hot, prevents early edge rust.
- won't scratch as easy, paint is harder.
- won't bend or buckle as easy, stronger design.
- laps are tighter, and virtually invisible.
- nail/screws seal better, ribs fit tighter to head.
- zinc phosphate, not chromate under paint.
- still priced about the same or less.

EVERLAST II
is excellent for houses and barns.
DOUBLE DIPPED GALVANIZED is proven best for animals.
STANDING SEAM
is ideal for houses.

BEEF TIPS
Temperament is an important characteristic for beef cattle The Simmental's gentle nature can be traced back to the breed's initial use as draught animals where constant handling and control was required European herds are quite small and contact with the cattle during grazing, milking, etc occurs daily Wild or unruly animals were routinely culled over many generations

SWEETCAKE 16NU
FEED SUPPLEMENT BLOCKS FOR THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY
• High Natural Protein • No Urea • Fat Enhanced
• Balanced Supplementation • Safe For All Livestock Classes

Sweetcake Advantages
- Aids in making the best use of your available forage
- Promotes a more even herd consumption, with 24-hour availability to all cattle
- Reduces labor to save you money and give you more time to make important management decisions
- Supplies much-needed vitamins and minerals that forage lacks to help your cattle perform to their genetic potential
- Supplies fat in most formulations to enhance energy intake

For Dairy
- Replacement heifers that grow out soundly and economically
- Body condition on dry cows so they can return to lactation, producing at the maximum potential
- Healthier herds, with essential trace minerals that help prevent metritis, retained placenta and other health problems
- Prompt re-breeding, thanks to essential nutrients

For Beef
- Stronger, healthier calves at birth
- Heavier Calves at weaning
- Cows that cycle better for improved conception rates
- Cows that milk better to raise a better calf

Northumberland Co.
These two farms have been reduced $150,000.00 and ready for a quick sale with many benefits and extras, call for all the details. The soils are some of the best soils in Pa. There is Washington, Hagerstown, Edom & Opequon soils and production and yields are high most years. There are two five bedroom homes, implement storage, modern milking parlor on the one and loose housing or could be free stall barns very easily. Owners are motivated.

Lower Northumberland Co. or Upper Dauphin I need a 125 to 150 acre farm for intensive grazing of fine dairy cows. I need this farm by January or February. Please call if you have anything for SALE or RENT.

Bradford Co. I have this modern multi-dairy cow operation. Ease of operation, with lots of acres and plenty of homes for a nice family set-up. There are many pluses with this opportunity. Call me now for a private showing and discreet location.

Bradford Co. is a nice tract already perked for a new home or large Estate type of setting. You'll love the location and wildlife which includes big rack deer, bear, plenty of turkey and no doubt grouse and other species. Surveying should soon be complete and ready for this fall building your dream property. The potential for this one is tremendous. Priced for the discriminating buyer.
